Better Business During Lat-

Help Swell ReturnsBY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Although President Hoover's latest summary on federal finance makes no mention of it, the luckiest break that the government experienced in connection with tax receipts is that the fiscal year on which Uncle Sam keeps his books doesn't coincide with the calendar year, but by which the American taxpayer makes out his returns and pays his bill to the treasury.

Two things might have upset calculations and brought about a deficit—the business depression of last autumn and the revision downward of the tax rates last year, bringing a smaller income to the government. Fortunately the tax receipts that started coming in on March 15 last are based on incomes during the calendar year 1929 and three quarters of that year saw high records in American business. If the first half of 1930 isn't productive of high income, the treasury will not be disturbed because the last half of 1930 may see better business conditions, and then in March, 1931, the treasury will find itself with relatively high income tax receipts.

Under the fiscal system in vogue for generations, however, the government works nearly a year ahead of time. Thus the money now being collected from the taxpayer will be applied on expenses beginning July 1 next and running until June 30, 1931. The income from taxation therefore will be about what was expected and the autumn depression of 1929 will have had no effect on the situation. The guesses made by the treasury experts as to what sources of revenue would show an increase and what would show a decrease under the new schedules which were in effect with the payments on March 15 last have proved accurate.

Now, however, congress is being asked to economize because there is no telling what money will be available when income tax payments came to the treasury beginning March, 1931. That's the crucial test because the government has based its expenditures on the idea that income for the fiscal year beginning in July of this year and collected beginning in March, 1931, will be about the same as in previous years. If the calendar year 1930 proves better in its third and fourth quarters than in its first two, the government will come out with a slight surplus. On the other hand, the lower tax rates are expected to bring into the government funds that now are withheld due to evasion or avoidance. Generally speaking the lower the tax rates the more productive are the returns.

President Hoover's call for economy will be emphasized more and more during the present session, for nobody will be able to know what business conditions will do to tax returns. The treasury experts can forecast what will happen under normal conditions of business in each income tax group but they can't prophesy what economic changes will do to the returns. If the government and the taxpayer had both kept looking on the calendar year basis there would have been even more uncertainty and perhaps real concern. As it is, the rest of 1930 is yet to come and there's time to figure out how much can be spent in the fiscal year beginning July, 1931.

BUILDING CONTRACTS
SHOWING BIG INCREASE

Washington—(AP)—A sharp increase in building contracts is reported by Dr. John Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, indicating a steady improvement in business conditions.

Delivering a radio address last night, Dr. Klein said that contracts of this type awarded in March were 45 per cent greater than in the preceding month and only 5 per cent less than in March of 1929 when business was moving at high speed.

In addition, he said that even more important perhaps "is the fact that some of the ultra-conservative governmental economists are right now looking their estimates for nationwide construction this year by approximately one billion dollars, placing the new total at 11 billions instead of 10 as estimated a few weeks ago."

BEGINS WORK
ON 3-POWER
NAVAL PACTStimson Said to Be Working to Clear Path Later for France, Italy

London—(AP)—Secretary of State Stimson began assembling his material for a naval conference treaty today thus signaling the approaching end of historic parley.

The secretary was understood to be getting ideas marshaled for a three powers pact—United States, Great Britain and Japan—which will be so constructed that France and Italy can join later if they overcome the difficulties which thus far have blocked the progress of the conference.

The American secretary of state came to London from Stimson this morning to consult his delegation, but expected to return to his country home during the afternoon to continue work on the intricacies of a naval pact. One of his tasks was to analyze the Washington treaty again and to study it in relation to the proposed new agreement.

No one among the various delegations has yet been willing to admit officially that a five power treaty is not still possible and work to that end is continuing. Unofficially, however, there are expressions that there is small likelihood of the French and Italian problems being settled at this conference. The conference in the main is marking time at the moment awaiting the French answer to Great Britain's latest suggestion regarding France's claim for a security pact. This answer will be the next big event for the conference since upon France's reply will depend whether there is any use continuing negotiations for a five power pact or whether the conference shall adjourn with a three power agreement.

BRIAND BACK TUESDAY

Foreign Minister Briand is in Paris discussing the matter with Premier Tardieu and the French cabinet and plans to return to London tomorrow. The general prediction in conference circles this morning was that it will be decided there is no use continuing discussions of the French security demand and the Franco-Italian party dispute at this conference.

The American delegation met this afternoon and Secretary Stimson laid before his colleagues his ideas of a naval treaty as far as possible without knowing the French answer on the security question.

It is understood the Americans feel quite a number of general clauses of the Washington treaty can be incorporated verbatim in the new pact. Tomorrow the first committee will meet at St. James palace to consider among other things aircraft carriers and an agreement for humanization of submarine warfare.

WILBUR SUSTAINED IN OIL PRICE DISPUTE

Washington—(AP)—Holding that the secretary of the interior has the right to fix the price at which oil taken from government owned lands under lease may be sold, the District of Columbia Court of Appeals today reversed an action by the District of Columbia Supreme court granting the Texas company a permanent injunction against Secretary Wilbur.

Secretary Wilbur refused to approve a contract made by the Cody Petroleum company to sell oil from the Oregon basin in Wyoming to the Texas company for 53 cents a barrel at the well and insisted on a price of 85 cents per barrel. The Texas company sought and was granted a permanent injunction against the secretary by the District of Columbia Supreme court.

MADISON BUILDING
UNION OUT ON STRIKE

Madison—(AP)—On Madison building trade union was on strike today, another was "laying off work," and three more were negotiating 1930 wage contracts. Six unions have signed 1930 contracts. The striking group was the hod carriers and plasterers' helpers. Plumbers have not worked since last Tuesday, while the bricklayers and masons, the painters, and the decorators were the unions negotiating for new contracts.

Depends on Outcome of Bitter Struggle

Cleveland, Ohio—(AP)—With the fate of a billion dollar steel deal hanging in the balance, attorneys representing a dozen of the biggest financial giants of the steel industry, battled with arguments in federal court here today for an attempt to get a federal injunction to prevent merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

The court fight was an eleventh hour engagement in the war over the merger, which is scheduled to end tomorrow in a stockholders meeting at Youngstown.

Shanghai—(AP)—Although three missionaries who escaped the bandit attack on Yunchow, Kiangsi, recently by fleeing into the mountains, made their way to safety and Miss Nina E. Gemmell, an American missionary formerly at Tacoma, Wash., and Girard, Kas., was reported to have been released, brigands today continued looting and raiding south of here.

A band of 500 brigands was reported to have captured, looted and burned numerous villages near Sun-kiang, Kiangsu province, 25 miles southwest of Shanghai. Fifty school children were kidnapped and held for ransom and three constables and a magistrate were reported killed by the lawless band.

Washington—(AP)—The claim of Secretary Mellon to the right of determining the existence of mitigating circumstances in the matter of a seizure and condemnation of an automobile taken for violating the revenue laws was upheld today by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

The decision was made by Chief Justice George E. Martin and concerned a case in which a car owned by Julian Gradou was seized at Detroit, on which a conditional sales contract was held by Walter E. Heller and Company.

The company presented a petition to Secretary Mellon asking the return of the vehicle on the ground that it had no suspicion the car was being used illegally. The petition was denied and the suit was instituted.

POLICE MYSTIFIED BY SLAYING IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(AP)—The slaying of a 52-year-old rooming house keeper had police baffled.

After questioning three boarders in the home of Mrs. Anna Holmes, a widow, the authorities said they had obtained no information about how the woman actually came to her death.

They did learn, however, that she had taken part in a drinking party. Her body, the head and bruised was found at 1:30 Saturday in the afternoon, but police were not notified until 9:30 Saturday night. The hammer with which she had been struck was found hidden under some rubbish. Doctors said marks on her throat indicated she had been strangled.

HALF MILLION LOST
DURING ATLANTA FIRE

Atlanta—(AP)—Sweeping upward from the elevator shaft through of floors filled with expensive medical equipment and records and accounts that cannot be replaced, fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed the Doctor's building on Peachtree-street and for a time menaced a wide area of the city.

Fire department officials tentatively fixed the damages at not less than a half million dollars. Approximately 75 doctors and dentists occupied the building.

Part of the loss was upwards of a dozen X-ray machines ranging in value from $5,000 to $25,000 each. The early part of the fire was marked by a series of explosions of X-ray films which, however, did no damage beyond adding progress of the flames.

U. S. PRISONSAttorney General Silent on Willebrandt Stories—
Against Norris Probe

Washington—(AP)—Early action on the prohibition enforcement transfer bill and on prison relief measures was advocated before the senate judiciary committee today by Attorney General Mitchell to help administration of the dry law.

The bill for the transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit from the treasury department to the department of justice has been passed by the house.

The attorney general regarded unfavorably the resolution of Chairman Norris, proposing a senate investigation of prohibition enforcement and the conceded after the meeting that he had little hope for the inquiry.

Asked about the charges of politics mixing in enforcement, made by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, Mr. Mitchell said he had declined to comment on this before the senate committee.

Chairman Norris called his attention to Mrs. Willebrandt's series of newspaper articles dealing with prohibition. The attorney general excused himself from comment on the ground that her charges dealt with a period prior to his administration.

Reporting that federal prisons were greatly overcrowded, Mr. Mitchell attributed this principally to increased prosecutions under the dry law. However, he said the Dyer automobile theft law, the Mann act and the narcotic act also had contributed to the increase in number of prisoners.

OTHERS TO APPEAR

After again deferring action on the Norris resolution, the committee held itself ready to hear Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, who has charged badly in enforcement and Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who

Seek Real Estate Man In Insurance Plot Slaying

Bentonville, Ark.—(AP)—A fugitive warrant was issued and forwarded to Kansas City today for the arrest of S. K. Johnson, Kansas City real estate operator, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of William Robert Pearman of Columbia, Mo., whose slaying allegedly grew out of an insurance conspiracy. The murder charge was contained in an indictment returned by the grand jury here last week but was not made public until today.

Authorities today investigated theories that St. Louis gangsters engineered the insurance plot to collect $200,000 in the slaying of Pearman, and that Pearman was connected last August with an attempt to negotiate a land deal involving life insurance.

The theories were advanced by attorneys for Dr. A. J. Bass, a red-headed dentist and wealthy St. Louis real estate operator, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of William Robert Pearman of Columbia, Mo., whose slaying allegedly grew out of an insurance conspiracy. The murder charge was contained in an indictment returned by the grand jury here last week but was not made public until today.

Admits He Killed Boy,
Aune Girl

St. Paul—(AP)—Andy Mann, 40-year-old Negro, held for the torture slaying of a 16-year-old boy here Saturday confessed today, police said, to the murder of Dorothy Aune, 12-year-old Minneapolis girl, found strangled last August.

Chief of Police E. J. Murnane said the Negro made the confession to the Aune slaying in the presence of Chief Murnane and a number of detectives. He had previously confessed to killing the boy, Earl Tague, whose body was found on a railroad embankment Saturday.

A full account of the Minneapolis slaying was given in the Negro's confession, Chief Murnane said, Mann declaring he had killed the Aune girl by stuffing paper down her throat. The child's body, wrapped in gunny sacks and bound with wire, was found by the roadside on Aug. 13, last.

Dorothy disappeared on her way to a grocery store a few blocks from her home. Wires and ropes were used in each instance to bind the victims.

Son's Widow Sues for Recovery of Securities Removed from Bank

Oshkosh—(AP)—Withdrawal of $160,000 in securities from the Marshall and Iskey bank safety deposit boxes in Milwaukee by A. C. McComb, the day after his son, Mark, joint owner of the bonds and stocks, was killed in an airplane accident was questioned in court today by Mark's widow, Mrs. Ina Taylor McComb, Milwaukee.

She is suing her father-in-law for recovery of the securities, claiming that they were wholly her husband's while the elder McComb is expected to contend that he only allowed his son to hold them for the returns on the investments.

An official of the Milwaukee bank today testified that when the bankers asked Mr. McComb, joint owner of the safety deposit box, his reason for withdrawing the securities, he said he was getting old and wanted them nearer him in Oshkosh. They were deposited a few days later in the Commercial National bank of Fond du Lac.

McComb, on the stand today under adverse examination, said he went to Milwaukee March 12, 1929, upon hearing of his son being involved in an airplane crash. He sat through the evening in a hotel lobby and heard of his son's death in the accident the next morning. He testified he then went to the bank.

A letter alleged to have been written by McComb to C. P. Taylor, Wautoma, father of Mrs. McComb, was introduced today showing his classification of her as "incapable and irresponsible" and his promise "I shall give him none of my money. If she wishes to sue, let her do so." The proposed suit was called a "disgrace" in the letter.

HUNT SCORPIONS AS
OWN POISON ANTIDOTE

City of Durango, Mexico—(AP)—The annual scorpion crusade has started a month ahead of time this year because the supply of these deadly insects, from which the antidote is made, became exhausted.

The state health department pays 25 cents (American) for each live male scorpion and 5 cents for each female. Whole families are dedicating their energies to the search, some of them in the past having earned enough during the scorpion season to live on through the year.

Scorpions in this part of Mexico are very poisonous and the most effective antidote to their bites is made from a serum extracted from the poison of the insect itself.

GAS WELL BLOWS IN NEAR
MARY SUDIK OIL GUSHER

Oklahoma City—(AP)—A gas well, estimated to be producing at a rate of 75,000,000 cubic feet a day, blew in at the edge of the city today, creating a new fire threat less than 24 hours after the wild No. 1 Mary Sudik gusher, several miles to the south, had been brought under control.

Tools were thrown away when the gusher came in and the well was spouting a big column of highly inflammable gas into the air. No immediate steps were taken to stop the flow.

The well, owned by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, which also owns the Mary Sudik, is located a mile east of the edge of Capitol Hill, a suburb, and lies across a paved street bordering on Trooper park.

Simply houses occupy the district. Traffic lines traverse the area, which has the appearance of a small, congested oil town.

8 MEN ARRESTED IN KENTUCKY SLAYING

Six Face Charges of Murder and Two Held for Helping Mob Members

Irvine, Ky.—(AP)—Eight men, all indicted in connection with the mob slaying of Chester Fugate, went on trial here today, six charged with murder and two charged with accessory to murder. Fugate, who was held in the Breathitt-co jail at Jackson, Ky., after the murder of Clat Watkins, attorney, was abducted by a mob last Christmas day. His body was found in a ditch, riddled with bullets.

The six men charged with murder are all relatives of Clay Watkins. They are Alvin Watkins, 16, a son; Sam Watkins, a brother; L. K. Rice, principal of Quickland high school, son-in-law; Ben Howard, former town marshal of Jackson, nephew; Lee Watkins, nephew; and Earl Howard, nephew.

S. L. Combs, father of the mob slaying, is charged with accessory to murder as is his son, Lewis, former deputy jailer.

Sheriff C. C. Stanfill had summoned a venire of 29 residents for jury service. The trial is being conducted at a special term of 18th circuit court called by Judge Sam Hurst of Kentucky.

Fugate, although wounded 13 times and left in a ditch for dead, lived for some time after the shooting. He had been lying in the snow and water of the ditch nine hours when found. The prosecution contends that he named several of the members of the mob that abducted him before he died.

Body in Shallow Water
Sunday Morning

Lake Winnebago Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning gave up the bodies of Edmund "Ted" Bolton and Carleton Roth, the two Appleton boys who were swept out into the lake the afternoon of Oct. 22, in a raging storm and drowned when their careless rowboat capsized in the heavy seas.

The body of young Bolton was found about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon about 200 feet off shore near the Herman Gletsch and C. O. Gochnauer cottages by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nelson of Kaukauna. They had gone to the lake during the afternoon to prepare their cottage for occupancy and clean up the grounds. Mrs. Nelson, while raking leaves from the lawn, noticed the body and Mr. Nelson retrieved it with the aid of a rowboat. Bolton was the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Bolton, 813 E. College-ave.

Word that Bolton's body had been found prompted Louis Bronen, employed at Waverly beach to begin a search of the shore early Sunday morning. He discovered Roth's body about a foot west of where Bolton had been found. The body was only 25 feet from shore. Roth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Roth, 1005 N. State-st.

The bodies of Edmund (Ted) Bolton, (top) and Carleton Roth, lost Oct. 22, in a storm on Lake Winnebago, were recovered Saturday night and Sunday. Funeral services are to be held tomorrow.

CONTINUE SEARCH

The search continued for three or four days, airplanes being pressed into service but with no results. About two weeks after the tragedy American legion members spent two Sundays searching the lake but found nothing. The search was abandoned with arrival of cold weather and freezing of the lake although farmers along the north shore spent much of the winter skating over areas they believed the bodies might be found.

Last week with complete breakup of the ice the search again was renewed. Early last week ice along the north shore went out into the lake with northwest winds and Friday with southeast winds part of it and the bodies came back. The bodies were found about a half mile east where the boys took the boat out.

Both are survived by his parents and one sister, Gertrude. Services will be held at the Wichman funeral home at 9:30 Tuesday morning. At 10 o'clock services will be held at the Congregational church with Dr. H. E. Peabody in charge. The body then will be taken to Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Bolton is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Bolton and two brothers, Wayne and Glenroy. The youth's body will be taken from the Bretschneider funeral home to All Saints Episcopal church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning where private services will be held at 10 o'clock with Bishop H. Sturtevant in charge. The body then will be taken to Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Lawrence college students will pay tribute to the memory of the two boys with a service at the chapel at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Henry M. Wriston will be the speaker. Burial in Riverside cemetery will follow the chapel services.

FORMER HEAD OF RESERVE BOARD DIES

William P. G. Harding Succumbs in Boston After Year's Illness

Boston.—(P)—William P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston and former governor of the Federal Reserve board, died here at 4:30 a. m. today. He was 65 years old.

He had been in poor health for more than a year and had been confined to his bed for the past three weeks. He made his home at the Algonquin club.

Death followed a critical illness from heart trouble. He had been governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston since January, 1923. He was appointed a member of the Federal Reserve board at its formation in 1914 by President Wilson, and in 1916 was made governor of the board. He served until 1922.

He was managing director of the War Finance corporation in 1918 and 1919. Born in Green-co, Alabama, on March 5, 1864, he graduated from the University of Alabama in 1881, the youngest full graduate in the history of the university.

He began his banking career in a private bank at Tusculum, Ala., later going to the Berney National bank at Birmingham, Ala. After some years he was chosen president of the First National bank of Birmingham.

Mr. Harding married Amanda Moore of Birmingham on Oct. 22, 1895.

The Hardings had three daughters. Miss Mary Elizabeth Harding married F. H. Prince, Jr., noted Boston sportsman, and divorced him in Paris in 1923, subsequently marrying E. Van Rensselaer Thayer of this city.

Miss Margaret Elliot Harding, like her mother, shot herself to death in this city in 1924. She was the youngest of the sisters. The third daughter, Alice Harding, married Robert Thompson Pell of New York City and Paris.

HUNT FOR CLEWS IN NEGRO PORTER MURDER

Locust Grove, Ga.—(P)— Authorities here hope to solve a baffling mystery at the resumption tomorrow of a coroner's inquest into the death of J. H. Wilkins, Negro Pullman porter, whose body was found near here Saturday with his knees touching the ground and his neck tied to a small tree with a porter's coat.

The body, bruised by two fractures of the skull, apparently had been carried across a plowed field between a grove of trees and the Southern railway tracks traversed by the Kansas City special on which Wilkins was employed. At the scene were drops of blood.

Pullman officials said Wilkins was seen alive about 2 o'clock and was missing just before the train reached Atlanta at 5:25 a. m. The train had no scheduled stop here and in the Negro's pockets was found $58.60.

Officers said the body was in such a position that no weight rested on the neck, tied around the neck and that there were no signs of strangulation.

L. M. ALEXANDER NAMED PAPER COUNCILLOR

L. M. Alexander, of the Nekoscoo Edwards Paper Company, Port Edwards, has been named by the American Paper & Pulp association as national councillor to the United States chamber of commerce, to represent the paper industry in all national problems in which the chamber of commerce is interested. He will be one of the speakers at the annual chamber meeting, his topic being: What's Ahead for Business.

Mr. Alexander is well known in Appleton for his efforts in the paper industry and as a trustee of Lawrence college. The new Alexander gymnasium of the college is named after Mr. Alexander.

THREE PERISH WHEN NEBRASKA PLANE FALLS

Tilden, Neb.—(P)—A three planting ceremony attended by Governor Weaver and 5,000 residents of northeastern Nebraska came to a tragic ending yesterday with the death of three youthful aviators, trapped in a new bi-plane as it crashed from a height of 500 feet. The ceremony had just been completed and the crowd was dispersing when the plane, caught by a sudden gust of wind, fell into a tall spin, crashed to earth and burst into flames.

The dead, all residents of Plainville, Neb., are: Kenneth Kirk, 26, pilot and co-owner of the plane. Leonard Alexander, 22, part owner of the ship. Leon Baldwin, 24.

MOTHER-IN-LAW THINKS SUSPECT NOT GUILTY

Sebring, Fla.—(P)—After visiting the jail cell of William R. Carver, former Philadelphia real estate operator, Mrs. H. C. Boardman, mother of his slain wife, has described murder indictments him as "foolish" charges. Carver, accused of murder in connection with the deaths of his wife, their two-year-old son and a servant, is awaiting arraignment.

A coroner's jury first accepted Carver's story that Ben Whitehead, Negro yardman, killed Mrs. Carver and the child with a hatchet and that he then shot Whitehead to death. A special grand jury, however, made an investigation and returned three murder indictments against Carver Saturday night. Included in the testimony was the statement that Carver was the beneficiary of a $10,000 double indemnity insurance policy on the life of his wife.

Mrs. Boardman said Carver's married life had been "very happy" and that he and his wife were "devoted to each other." The slayings occurred last Wednesday.

LATTER DAY SAINTS CONSECRATE TEMPLE

Independence, Mo.—(P)—The world centennial of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints today turned into ceremonies attendant upon its opening to business, with more than 7,000 visitors and delegates prepared to hear the message of President Frederick M. Smith.

Yesterday communicants from every state in the Union and a dozen foreign countries took part in ceremonies consecrating a million dollar temple. Today they filed back into the huge structure to see their lines of future endeavor outlined and indorsed.

President Smith, grandson of Joseph Smith, who a century ago launched the Mormon faith, is expected to announce a program of religious education, indorse the stewardship plan and to emphasize the importance of missionary work.

Folsom Prison, Calif.—(P)—W. H. Tinkelpaugh, a convict, was fighting today against gangster infection and, if he lives alone will remain to tell prison officials how he and two others prisoners planned to escape from Folsom prison yesterday. Harry Stewart and Edward D. Baker were killed in the attempted break by rifle fire from guard posts. Tinkelpaugh was shot through the back and chest.

While the prison band played and several hundred convicts watched the regular Sunday baseball game in the "upper yard" and others attended church services in the chapel, Stewart, Baker and Tinkelpaugh ran for the American river, below the prison stone quarry.

Guards fired ten warning shots at the fleeing trio. Then guns were levelled upon the three convicts and one by one they fell.

Stewart was sentenced to Folsom from San Francisco for second degree robbery. He was serving one year to life. Baker was sentenced to serve five concurrent sentences, each for five years to life for first degree burglary in Orange-co. Tinkelpaugh was also sentenced from Orange-co to serve five years to life for first degree robbery.

BATHS REAL LUXURY IN THIS ARID TOWN

Whitewater, Kas.—(P)—The Saturday night bath is no joke to the citizen of this unusually arid town. With two snows last January the only precipitation in months, water is at a premium.

Weekend pilgrimages to Newton, 10 miles distant, or to Wichita, 20 miles away, are in order. There the visitors enjoy the luxury of a steaming, well filled tub.

Supper, Thurs., Apr. 10. Congo. Church, 5:30 to 7:00 P. M. Price 65c.

TO ISSUE SPECIAL STAMPS FOR FLIGHT OF GRAF ZEPPELIN

Pan-American Trip Prompts Government to Put Out Three New Stamps

The federal postal department is soon to issue three special Zeppelin air mail stamps of 65-cent, $1.30 and $2.60 denominations for use on mail matter carried on the Graf Zeppelin's first Europe-Pan American round trip flight to be made early in May.

The stamps will be of the same shape and size as the current air mail stamps. The border design will be the same with the necessary change in numerals representing the value. At the top of the stamp in a straight line are the words, "Graf Zeppelin" with the words "Europe-Pan American Flight" directly beneath. At the bottom of the stamp in a dark panel appear the words "United States Postage."

The 65-cent stamps are printed in green and contain as the central design a representation of the Graf Zeppelin in flight across the Atlantic ocean in an eastward direction. In the $1.30 stamp the airship is similarly shown, sailing westward, with a partial outline of the eastern and western continents on either side of the stamp. This stamp is printed in brown.

The design of the $2.60 stamp shows the Graf Zeppelin emerging from the clouds, passing a globe representing the earth, and traveling toward the west. This stamp is printed in blue.

The first Zeppelin stamps are to be placed on sale at Washington, D. C., on April 19. On April 21 the stamps will be placed on sale at central points in each of the states. Madison and Milwaukee will be the first places to get the stamps in Wisconsin. The special issue of stamps will consist of 1,000,000 of each denomination and they will remain on sale at the central postoffices in each state until the departure of the Graf Zeppelin on its return flight from Lakehurst, N. J. The stamps then unsold will be recalled for destruction. As soon as 1,000,000 stamps of each denomination are printed the plates will be destroyed.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head-aches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit, 15c, 25c and 60c.

Soars Across U. S. in Glider

Here is a closeup of Captain Frank Hawks, famous airman, in the tiny glider in which he is making a coast-to-coast flight from San Diego, New York, towed by an airplane. The cockpit cover has been removed. The arrow indicates the hook to which the towrope is attached. The picture was taken as Captain Hawks was being congratulated by his mother, Mrs. C. M. Hawks, at Los Angeles. The upper picture shows the glider in flight.

Gain in Weight and Health in 21 Days or Nothing to Pay Says Your Druggist

If you are anxious to increase your weight and at the same time transform yourself into a sturdy, forceful, virile young man, this advice will help you.

Pharmacists everywhere will tell you that you can never gain in weight unless your body is plentifully supplied with Nature's own Vitamins, and the sure and speedy way to get these Vitamins is the modern way—in tablet form.

You might get enough Vitamins by drinking a gallon of milk and eating a pound of butter every day besides what food you regularly eat—but what's the use?

You can go to your druggist this very day and get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets which contain no drugs—but are chockful of health and weight building Vitamins.

Take two of these tablets after each meal and two at bedtime for 21 days, then if you aren't satisfied with the increase in weight—if you don't feel stronger, more energetic and vigorous, get your money back—10 tablets, 60 cents—take them winter and summer and get your Vitamins all the year around. Just ask for McCoy's at any drug store.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head-aches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

DESCRIBES STORY OF WORLD CRUISE

"A Landlubber's Log" by Arthur Warner on Library Shelves

A fascinating story of a trip around the world as a landlubber and a tramp, "A Landlubber's Log" by Arthur Warner, has been received at the Appleton public library.

Warner tells with humor and understanding what happened when he gave up newspaper work in New York to earn his living with his hands, shipping between the mast in a tramp steamer bound for the Antipodes, joining the S. S. Arcturion in Australia for his "bunk and bunkers," sailing the Tasman Sea in a yachting, working in a stockhole around the Horn and through the Tropics on his return passage. His story is no concoction of impossible adventure and "putting romance" it is a bona fide record of the excitement and monotony, the beauty and the loneliness of life at sea, told with a joyous zest that comes only to those who have lived it.

New York—Co. Page is running again. He will be re-elected Wednesday to his insurance directorate.

Busses Go On Streets As Electric Cars Are Taken Off

WHISTLES AND GONGS SOUND CAR FAREWELL

Street Cars Make Last Run Over Historic Lines on Appleton Streets

The passing of the old kerosene lamp was marked by nothing more than a removal from the parlor table to the top of the shelf; the last puff of smoke had just as quiet a transference from the close to an attic trunk; the last horse will just die down and die—quietly. But the passing of Appleton's last street car was an occasion that called for proper celebration.

With whistles tied down, bells clanging, and pace slowed down to funeral speed, the two street cars started on their last trips at 11:40 Sunday night. The cars, carrying about 40 hilarious passengers, were driven by Carl Van Dinter and Floyd Birmingham, both of whom have been street car motormen for about 10 years. The majority of passengers stuck to the "galloping boxes" until they reached the barns, where they will be kept until disposed of.

Included in the list of last-ride passengers were H. Kloes, superintendent of transportation for the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, and John Siebert, 532 N. Sampson-st., who rode on Appleton's first street car way back in 1886.

At the end of the trip the passengers dismantled the cars, carrying anything removal as mementoes of the passing of the "yellow peril." Electric light bulbs, brooms, snow shovels, fire extinguishers, and sand pails and money boxes were removed, and the busses which will substitute the street car service made their initial trips Monday morning.

Commenting on the removal of the street railway service Monday morning, Mayor A. C. Kule said that he was sorry to see both the street car and the interurban cars abandoned as he believed they offered better service than busses, but inasmuch as the bus method of transportation has out in its efficiency the street car service no other procedure was possible.

Employees of the Power company started early Monday morning to remove trolley wires and poles holding them. Practically all the wires and poles on College-ave were taken off by noon.

ASK STUDENTS ABOUT OPINIONS ON CHURCH

Lawrence college students were asked to express their attitude in regard to the church by Dr. John Griffiths, professor of psychology, by checking pertinent questions presented them in student convocation this morning.

A questionnaire scale, prepared by two University of Chicago professors and containing statements ranging from "I think the church is a divine institution, and its commands my highest loyalty and respect," and "I feel the church to be the greatest agency for uplift in the world," to the opposite attitude typified by comments such as "I feel the church is ridiculous, for it cannot practice what it preaches," or "My attitude is one of neglect due to lack of interest," was given each student. Forty-five statements, in all expressive of various attitudes, and the students checked those with which they fully agreed.

P. T. A. WILL HEAR HEALTH DISCUSSION

Dr. James Murrell of Lawrence college will speak on the health of the children in the primary grades at a meeting of the First Ward Parent Teachers association at the school Monday evening. Miss Sophia Schaefer will talk on Dietetics, and George Nielsen will sing. Important business will be transacted before the program.

SEVEN ESCAPE JAIL BY USING FIRE HOSE

Houston, Texas—(P)—Fire hose spelled liberty here today for 14 prisoners in the Harris-co jail. After judding and tying up a watchman, the prisoners coupled together two 50-foot lengths of hose, and slid down from a window to the ground, seven stories below. A hasty check indicated none of the escaped men were dangerous characters.

REVIVE MEMORIES OF FIRST STREET CARS

Forty-four years ago the street car pictured here rattled along on uneven rails set in Appleton's dirt streets. These street cars were among the wonders of the world and attracted as much attention from visitors as a circus parade does from a group of children.

DRAW JURY TO TRY PAIR ON CHARGES OF BANK ROBBERY

Expect Testimony to be Started Monday Afternoon in Municipal Court

A jury was being chosen in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Monday morning from a panel drawn last week, to try Larry Lawrence and E. H. Stewart, Chicago collection agents, on charges of holding up the bank at Black Creek on Nov. 3, 1929, and stealing $738.

It was expected the jury would not be completed before Monday afternoon, when testimony would start.

T. H. Ryan, Appleton attorney and two members of the firm of Brown, Brown and Brown, Chicago attorneys, are defending the two men, while Stanley A. Stald, distict attorney, is conducting the prosecution.

Stewart and Lawrence were arrested last January after Mrs. George H. Peters, assistant cashier, said they resembled the bank robbers. Mrs. Peters was in the bank when it was robbed. Lawrence and Stewart had called at the bank on the morning of the day of robbery on business for the United States National Adjustment company of Chicago, it was said.

Several weeks after the robbery Mrs. Peters recalled that Stewart and Lawrence looked like the robbers. They were apprehended at Durant, Wis., and Mrs. Peters and several other Black Creek residents went to Durant but failed to identify the pair.

On their return to Appleton Mrs. Peters and the other witnesses told county officials they had been asked to identify the two men, at Durant because of the attitude of the Durant officials and the Chicago men's attorneys. Another order was sent out to pick the two men up.

When Stewart and Lawrence heard of the second order they agreed to return to Appleton to stand trial if their bond was placed at $1,000. This agreement was made and following a preliminary hearing at which Mrs. Peters and several other Black Creek persons testified as to the identity of the men, they were bound over for trial.

BOATHOUSE AND BOAT DESTROYED BY FIRE

A boathouse owned by A. Bartel, route 2, Appleton, and a small rowing boat were destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the building became ignited from a grass fire nearby. The boathouse was located on the Fox river just west of the city. The fire was noticed by Lawrence Wing, who saved another boat kept in the same house. The fire was prevented from spreading to other boathouses, the nearest being 15 feet away. The loss is estimated at about $50.

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE WILL MEET TUESDAY

The county highway committee will meet Tuesday afternoon at the courthouse, according to Frank Appleton, highway commissioner. The committee will discuss the proposed routing of Highway 55 at Kaukauna and it is expected that a representative of the state highway department, which is advocating this change, will be present.

LEGIONAIRES MEET AT ELK CLUB TONIGHT

Oney Johnston post of the American legion will meet at 8 o'clock Monday evening at the Elk club. A meeting of the post executive committee will be held at 6 o'clock at the club.

The veterans will consider Memorial day plans and a July 4 celebration. Cards will follow the business session.

Mitchell Favors Prompt Action On Transfer Bill medicinal alcohol permits. "He would leave that with the treasury."

Discussing his resolution, Senator Norris said after the committee session that "I don't think we have had a fair test of enforcement and I would like to learn the facts about it."

"However," he added, "if the people who are as ardent prohibitionists as I am feel that an investigation would hinder the new administration, which seems to be doing better, according to its own statistics, I don't want to spill the beans."

"I have thought an investigation would disclose many instances where political influence was brought to bear to prevent prosecutions or to interfere with prosecutions after they had been commenced."

The Nebraska senator had not observed an improvement in enforcement under the Hoover administration.

Attorney General Mitchell explained that the department was adopting a liberal policy with paroles as one means of relieving congestion in the prisons.

The department has several measures pending before the judiciary committee providing for a complete reorganization of the federal prison system.

11 COUNTY YOUTHS ENROLL FOR CAMPS

Eight from Kaukauna and Two from Appleton to Attend C. M. T. C.

Eleven youngsters, eight from Kaukauna and two from Appleton, have enrolled for Citizens Military Training camps, according to Raymond Dorn, chairman of the committee in charge of Outagamie-co enrollments. The county quota this year is 25 boys.

Youngsters entering training for the first time will go to Fort Snelling, Minn., while advanced students will go to camps at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and Camp McCoy at Sparta.

Kaukauna youngsters who are to attend camp include Wilbur Dorus, Donald Grebe, Kenneth Heindel, Edward Mislaski, Vernon Mullen, Herbert Nielsen, Harold Noe, and Raymond Versteeg. Appleton boys are William Van Ryzin and Walter Lettor.

Camp at Fort Snelling will be conducted from Aug. 1 to 30, while camps at Fort Sheridan and McCoy will be conducted from July 31 to Aug. 29.

ORGANIZE CHAPTER OF RESERVE OFFICERS

Appleton and Outagamie-co reserve officers of the United States army will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Mary Joseph to discuss plans for reorganization of a reserve chapter here.

Lieut. Col. Stephen A. Parks, Milwaukee, secretary of the state reserve officers' association, will attend the meeting and take part in the reorganization.

Appleton reserves formerly belonged to the Fox River valley chapter which was disbanded several months ago.

SWISS CANTONS VOTE BIG Tax On Alcoholic Booze

Berne, Switzerland—(P)—Switzerland, voting in yesterday's referendum for revision of its alcoholic legislation, has undertaken heavy taxation of strong liquors with the avowed object of social reform.

All political party organs except those of the Communists favored the revision of the theory that the Swiss were drinking too many schnapps, which are highly alcoholic drinks distilled from fruits and occupy a position in Switzerland analogous to whisky in America.

Heretofore only alcohol made from potatoes has been taxed. The new law will tax from one gold franc a liter upwards all alcohol, brandies and similar high-proof liquors, with the exception made that the people have a right to brew their own liquor solely for their own consumption without taxation.

Students in German Comedy

A German comedy, "Minna von Barnhelm" will be presented in the auditorium of Zion parish school at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Left to right the cast includes: Adolph Rusch, Wabeno; Dorothea Krause, Wausau; Gordon Bubolz, Seymour; Charles Peerenboom and Carl Schiebeler, Appleton; Herta Mueller, Marinette; Reinhold Vogt, Appleton, and Irene Ungrodt, Washburn.

COLLEGIANS TO SHOW GERMAN PLAY

"Minna Von Barnhelm" Will Be Presented at School Tuesday Night

A German comedy, "Minna von Barnhelm" will be presented by members of the German club of Lawrence college in the auditorium of Zion parish school at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The cast includes Carl Schiebeler, Appleton, who impersonates Major von Tellheim; Miss Merta Mueller, Marinette, Minna von Barnhelm; Harold Wurtz, Graf von Bruchsal; Irene Ungrodt, Washburn, Franziska, a lady in waiting; Reinhold Vogt, Appleton, just a servant to Major Tellheim; Gordon Bubolz, Seymour, Paul Werner, gevesener Wachtmeister des Majors; Charles Peerenboom, Appleton, der Wirt; Dorothy Krause, Sausau, eine dame in Trauer; and Adolph Rusch, Wabeno, ein Feldjager.

The action takes place in the parlor of an inn.

GO-EDS WILL VOTE ON MERGING ASSOCIATIONS

Lawrence college co-eds will vote Wednesday morning in student convocation on the proposed merger of the college Y. W. C. A. with the administrative group, now known as the Women's Self Government association.

If the plan, which has been presented by a joint committee from the two organizations, is ratified an election will be held at the same time for the officers of the new organization to be called the Lawrence Women's association.

A duplicate of activities involving extra financial obligations and reduced efficiency was the cause of the planned merger, it is said. One organization with one contribution will serve the needs of the Lawrence women, formerly met by the dual groups, according to Helen Bergmann, South Milwaukee, president of the W. S. G. A. and Lois Kloebe, Appleton, president of the campus Y. W. C. A.

COLLEGE INFIRMARY IS EMPTY JUST NOW

The Lawrence college infirmary might have hung out a sign this morning, "Rooms to Rent" for there are no occupants in the campus sick beds. The Viking students, seemingly unaffected by the current epidemic of measles and whooping cough, all appear to be hale and hearty, at least as far as the college nurses are able to determine.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH ON LAKE RD

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cohen of this city and George Hecker, Menasha, were injured about 11 o'clock Sunday morning on the Lake-rd, Highway 114 near Waverly Beach in an automobile and motorcycle crash. Hecker, driver of the motorcycle, suffered severe scalp wounds and bone lacerations, while Mr. and Mrs. Cohen received body lacerations and bruises. Hecker was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where he will be confined for a few days.

The cyclist was driving north on the Lake-rd and Mr. Cohen was driving south.

FAIR, COOL WEATHER PREDICTED TUESDAY

There will be little change in weather in the next 24 hours, according to the weatherman. Skies will remain clear and the mercury is due to explore the regions around the 35 and 40 degree above mark.

Ideal weather conditions prevail in this vicinity for the first time in several days, although the mercury stayed down around the 40 mark on Sunday.

Winds are shifting in the northwest, promising continued cool weather. At 6 o'clock this morning the mercury registered 33 degrees above zero, while at noon it registered 45 degrees above.

NEW PLAN TO BE OFFERED BY RAILROAD

Chesapeake and Ohio Reviews Efforts to Consolidate Eastern Carriers

Washington—(P)—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway renewed today its move to consolidate eastern carriers by notifying the Interstate Commerce commission that it would withdraw its application presented in February of last year for acquisition of 11 roads in favor of a new plan to be submitted shortly.

Coincidentally the commission approved, over the opposition of Commissioner Eastman, acquisition by the Chesapeake and Ohio of the 320-mile Hocking Valley railway in Ohio.

In its original application, the Chesapeake and Ohio asked permission to acquire the Hocking Valley, the Pere Marquette, the Erie, the Nickel Plate, the Virginian, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Bessemer and Lake Erie, the Wheeling and Lake Erie, the Pittsburgh and Shawmut, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroads.

The commission in its consolidation plan allocated the Virginian to the New York Central and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois to the Chicago and Northwestern system.

The Chesapeake and Ohio is expected in its new plan to drop its request for the Virginian, but it is believed prepared to renew its attempt to acquire the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

Permission to acquire the Wheeling and Lake Erie, which was assigned by the commission to the Warrenton road system, is also understood to be part of the plan, contemplated by the Van Sweringen interests, which control the Chesapeake and Ohio.

The Chesapeake and Ohio was permitted to acquire the Hocking Valley under restrictions regarding the financing, the commission ordering that the stock acquired shall not be disposed of except by authority of the commission.

In carrying out the acquisition the C. and O. was allowed to issue $24,748,875 of common capital stock for exchange for stock of the Hocking Valley. The exchange will be made on a basis of one share of Hocking Valley for 24 shares of C. and O. stock.

Commissioner Eastman contended that the so-called acquisition of control was so "patently" contrary to the two properties that he could not "bring himself to concur in the majority report."

BIRTHS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Walther, 1708 S. Jefferson-st., at St. Elizabeth hospital Monday.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Liebert Wetzel, 211 Memorial-dr., at St. Elizabeth hospital.

GIRL, 20, DIVORCED FROM NEENAH MAN, 20

Mrs. Margaret Reck, 20, Kaukauna, was granted an absolute divorce by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Saturday from her husband, William Reck, 20, Neenah, on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment. Reck brought the suit for divorce, charging his wife was cruel and inhuman because she nagged him and was quarrelsome. Mrs. Reck counter-charged that her husband was cruel and inhuman because he was a drunkard and because he failed to properly support her. She was awarded the divorce. The couple was married Sept. 24, 1929, at Oshkosh and separated on Oct. 25.

NIGHT WATCHMAN AT COURTHOUSE RESIGNS

Roy Bunt, Kaukauna, who has been night watchman at the county courthouse since March 1, resigned Monday to accept another position, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. Bunt was appointed in March after the county board, at its February session, authorized the building and grounds committee to engage a watchman at $100 per month. The building and grounds committee met Monday and probably will appoint another man to fill the vacancy.

DRIVER IS FINED $10 FOR SPEEDING

Russell Roblee, 718 N. Fair-st., was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to speeding. He was arrested about 10 o'clock Saturday night on Memorial day for driving 28 miles an hour. Fred Arndt, motorcycle officer made the arrest.

BOILING STOCKS AGAIN TAKE EYES FROM INVESTMENTS

Another Speculative Orgy and Credit Inflation Seen by Some

BY PRESTON S. KRECKER
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York (CPA)—
Boiling stock markets and a tendency towards inflation in brokers' deans on the New York stock exchange have had the effect of chilling enthusiasm in the investment market a bit.

Large scale investors in bonds, proverbially conservative, are inclined to fear that the lessons of last fall have already been forgotten and that the market is threatened with another speculative orgy and credit inflation such as brought about the crash in October and November.

As an outcome, the edge is off the investment market for the moment. Dealings in old bonds have fallen off and the volume of new issues also has diminished. The market for new finance slowed down the past week. The tendency of prices, too, was inclined to softness.

There is no reason to fear that the slackening of activity in the investment market was due to lack of buying power. Quite the opposite. There is no lack of funds seeking investment. Savings banks, institutions, corporations and large estates will resume activity once they find market conditions more to their liking.

Of course there are other reasons besides stock market activity for the slackened demand for bonds. One is the technical condition of the investment market. Prices have been run up pretty fast and a large volume of new financing had been absorbed. The natural feeling was that a technical readjustment was in order.

MONEY ALSO FIRMER

Firmer money also was a factor. Rates for all short term funds have gone up since the federal reserve bank recently refused to cut its bill buying rate below 3 per cent. The natural effect of that refusal was a recovery in open market rates to the federal reserve level and in the case of long maturities, slightly above it. That has had due influence on the market for investments.

Any casing of money doubtless would be followed by a resumption of large scale bond buying. There appears to be no likelihood that money will be dear. Federal reserve policy still is unquestionably committed to easy money. Federal reserve reports last week confirmed that theory. As a result of the rise in open market bill rates, dealers were able again to sell freely to the federal reserve bank with the result that its bill holdings gained $14,800,000. That means that an equivalent amount of funds was released.

Imports of gold during the first quarter of the year also must be taken into account. Upwards of $60,000,000 came in last month. Altogether the country gained $125,000,000 gold in the first quarter, which about made up the loss of gold suffered last fall. That new gold is equivalent to about one and one quarter billion dollars of additional credit.

As regards brokers' loans there appears to be little cause for alarm as yet. It is true that loans have expanded about $540,000,000 in the last four months. They still are less than 60 per cent of the 1929 peak, however, and are $1,600,000,000 similar to a year ago.

The French ambassador at Berlin who engaged his countrymen by marrying a German girl and now faces dismissal as a result, has a thing or two yet to learn about diplomacy, apparently.

BAND TO PLAY NEXT CONCERT APRIL 22

What probably will be the last indoor concert of the season will be played by the 120th Field Artillery band Tuesday evening, April 22, at Lawrence Memorial chapel, according to Edward F. Mumm, band director. A complete program already is being prepared by Director Mumm and the band is rehearsing the numbers. The May concert probably will be played at Pierce park.

STEEL PRICES IN FURTHER DECLINE

Reports Are on Tonnage
Last Week Are Not so
Favorable Either

Special Dispatch to Post-Crescent
Pittsburgh (CPA)—Steel developments of last week were not definitely favorable as to tonnage, while they were unfavorable as to prices, declines being again decidedly in evidence after a couple of months during which there was no more than a little softening.

Conditions all around are decidedly peculiar for this date in the year, when ordinarily mills have quite a backlog and prices are steady.

In the last few weeks there has been no distinct change in the general rate of steel production. Steel ingot production has averaged slightly over 75 per cent, of late, having come down from a peak rate of about 85 per cent of the middle of February. Precisely why that peculiar bulge occurred will probably never be explained.

Judged by mill backlogs, which are light, production is hardly likely to hold its recent rate, but that in hardly a criterion when buyers all down the line have been so conservative. Seasonal increases should be expected in some lines of steel consumption, but others may lose part of their momentum.

Automobile production was much heavier in March than in February, and much heavier production is now predicted for this month. Averaging a series of years, the seasonal peak has come about April 30.

Declines in steel prices have become a feature in the last couple of weeks after a period in which there was almost no change. Hot and cold rolled steel, automobile sheets and pipe are all down, and the decline in pipe was more or less spectacular, as it came by the steel corporation suddenly announcing a reduction. There is no confirmation of suspicions that there was enough shading in pipe to bring about the reduction, which was specifically stated to be made to bring pipe in line with other steel products that had declined. There had been no material change in pipe since the last general rise which ended in April, 1929. Now only standard rails are left at their 1929 price.

HOLD TRY-OUTS FOR CONTEST AT SCHOOL

Event Is Planned in Memory of Former Appleton Students

A preliminary meeting was held at the high school for all students interested in trying out for the extemporaneous contest to be held on May 1 in memory of Edmund Bolton and Carlton Roth, graduates of high school, who were drowned in Lake Winnebago last fall. The senior and junior classes will sponsor the contest.

Miss Ruth McKennan, dramatic coach, is the faculty sponsor of this activity which has formerly been called the Fischer Extempore Speech Tilt. It is open to both boys and girls. The Fox river valley contest this year will take place in Appleton on May 8.

In last year's contest Ruth Cohen was awarded first place in the home contest for her talk "Is Farm Relief in Sight?" Paul Hackbert placed second with his speech on "Bigger and Better Navies." The other three speakers and their subjects were Norman Zanzig, "Wisconsin and the Eighteenth Amendment"; Lawrence Morris, "The Root of the World Court Difficulty"; Lawrence Oosterhaus, "Rebellions Across the Border."

Ruth Cohen as winner of first place represented Appleton in the Valley contest where she won fifth place when her talk on "Prohibition," Frederick Hilde of Sheboygan captured first place by his discussion of "Side-lights in the Hoover Administration." "The Kellogg Peace Pact," the subject of Dorothy Edwards who represented Oshkosh won her second place. The third place was given to Fred Olson of Green Bay who spoke on the cruiser bill.

CONSIDER CHILDREN'S BUILDING AT VETS' CAMP

Construction of a children's building at Camp American legion, Lake Tomahawk, is being considered by the state department of the American Legion. The building will be for children of American legion members in need of outdoor life. The children will be taken care of while at camp either by the American legion auxiliary or a chapter of the War Mothers. The capacity of the children's building will be 25 or 30 youngsters.

300 NEW VOLUMES ARE RECEIVED BY LIBRARY

Almost 300 new volumes, 222 adult and 53 juvenile, were added to the Appleton public library during March, according to the monthly report of Miss Florence Day, librarian. The total number of books in the library at the beginning of April was 32,395.

New borrowers registered during the month numbered 303 against 289 cancellations. The total number of borrowers at the library at the end of the month was 10,553. Of this number 693 are county borrowers, and 46 live outside the county.

Books loaned during the month included 4,263 volumes of non-fiction, 12,884 fiction, 209 unbound periodicals, and 164 foreign books, aggregating 17,520 volumes. Forty-two pictures and 79 clippings also were circulated during the month. Twenty-six books were received as gifts.

resented Oshkosh won her second place. The third place was given to Fred Olson of Green Bay who spoke on the cruiser bill.

BUILDING ACTIVITY INCREASES IN STATE

Construction Contracts Let
Last Month Total $34,950,800

March construction contracts let in Wisconsin amounted to $34,940,800, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation. This was more than thirty times the amount let in the preceding month, and it was more than twice the amount reported in March 1929. The preceding month's total was $1,142,000, and March 1929 record amounted to $13,556,000. Milwaukee had $4,919,100 in contracts awarded during the past month, compared with $1,909,000 for February, and against $9,530,400 for March 1929. Building and engineering work contracted for in Milwaukee since the year opened have amounted to $8,512,500, compared with $14,098,800 for the first three months of last year. Wisconsin total for the first three months was $48,440,900, against $27,771,900 for the same period in 1929, an increase of 74 per cent.

The outstanding feature during March in Wisconsin was the industrial class, with $25,962,000, or 74 per cent of all construction. Residential buildings featured second, amounting to $3,038,500, or 9 per cent; public works and utilities totaled $2,847,200, or 8 per cent, and public buildings amounted to $1,588,400, or 5 per cent. Milwaukee's total included: $1,850,000 or 38 per cent, for public buildings; $1,309,800, or 27 per cent, for public works and utilities; and $1,140,200, or 23 per cent, for residential construction.

ENGLISH CLUB ADDS 2 BOOKS TO LIBRARY

The English club of Lawrence college has added two new books to its circulating library. "Lone Hunter" by Boyd, and "Young Man from Manhattan" by Katherine Bush will be obtainable from the librarian in a few days.

BUILDING OPERATIONS INCREASE LAST MONTH

Building operations in Appleton took a healthy jump during March according to the monthly report of John N. Welland, building inspector, which shows that 40 permits aggregating $86,845 were issued.

The list of permits includes one residence, $3,500; three residences and garages, $25,500; 14 residences additions and alterations, $11,033; 12 garages, $1,810; six mercantile buildings, $44,250; and four miscellaneous buildings, $350.

Fourteen heating permits and five sign permits were issued and the

DANGERS IN DIETS TO END FAT A BETTER WAY

MANY more people would fight fat in the right way if they did not fear some harm. The slender figures, multiplied in late years, could be multiplied again. But the danger lies in starvation or abnormal exercise. The right way is to combat the cause. It usually lies in an under-active gland. That scanty gland secretion lets too much food go to fat. Modern physicians, in treating obesity, feed the lacking substance.

That method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. They are prepared by a famous laboratory, to offer this right method at its best. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen in every circle. Almost everyone has friends who can show and tell the many good effects.

The Marmola prescription is not secret. Each box contains the formula, and all the good results are explained. The user who gains new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, knows exactly why. If you suffer from excess fat, combat the cause. It is a blight to beauty and to health. Don't starve, but feed the system a substance that is lacking. Marmola tablets do that.

Consider how many have employed this method, and for 22 years. It must be right. Go learn what they have learned. Watch the results from a box or two of Marmola, and let those results decide. Start now. Don't delay appearing at your best.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING!

EXCUSE our enthusiasm, but we see good cause for rejoicing as the Music Defense League nears the 2,000,000 membership mark after a few short weeks of effort.

And, if that doesn't prove that the American public wants Living Orchestras and Organists in the Theatre, what would?

There is nothing EXclusive about this swiftly-growing society. It's Inclusive—inclusive of the intelligent citizenry of the New World. And that covers a lot of people, cynics to the contrary notwithstanding. It should, by the way, include YOU.

To become a member in good standing of the Music Defense League one needs only the discriminating taste to know that the art of music is worthy of preservation, and the good sense to want one's money's worth. There are no dues, no obligations.

Throughout the world friends of music are alive to the cultural menace of Canned Music in Theatres. Even the governments of England, France, Spain and Italy are considering measures to prevent this artistic debasement.

American music lovers have chosen the popular and democratic course—that of registering public demand through the Music Defense League.

What if theatrical interests are momentarily deaf to all considerations save profits gained through false economy? They will heed the voice of the public when that voice attains a sufficiently compelling volume. For the public must be served.

If you value the cultural influence of music... if you feel that the price you pay for theatrical entertainment entitles you to real music rendered by living musicians in the theatre, sign the coupon below and mail it.

HOME OWNERSHIP

There are many ways of classifying the people of the United States. You can divide them up as wets and dries, modernists and fundamentalists, pacifists and militarists, conservatives and liberals, and so on; but one of the most obvious, all-inclusive divisions is one that is seldom made. It is the division that you get when you classify people according to their views on the desirability of owning their own homes.

In the one camp, where dwell the home-owners, you will hear much talk about the economy of making payments on a mortgage instead of paying rent to a landlord. You will hear, also, of the joys of home ownership; the joys of yard and garden, the pleasure of having a house all to yourself, the happiness that comes from ownership of your own roof.

The other camp will be quick to scoff at all of these points. Its adherents will tell you that the quickest way to make yourself poor is to saddle yourself with mortgages, interest payments, taxes, and the like. They will point out that the apartment-house dweller has his fires built, his walk shoveled and his ashes removed by a janitor whom someone else pays; and they will add that tending a lawn or making a garden is more like hard work than fun.

You know all about the arguments on both sides. Probably you've shifted back and forth between camps, off and on, for years. And we wouldn't take sides for the world. But here's a new angle on the thing, contained in a letter which a young home-owner recently wrote to the editor of the Lakewood (Ohio) Post. Part of it is worth reprinting here, as follows:

"When a fellow like me suddenly begins to get an actual kick out of going to a very ordinary job, the fact deserves mention. And when the same fellow begins to work seriously to get a raise out of the boss, instead of a rise out of a blond stenographer, that fact also belongs in the book. I did get a raise. Six months later I got another, and I did not ask for it, either."

The change that the writer of this letter describes came, he says, because he was buying a home—and was, therefore, obliged to keep his nose to the grindstone, economize to the limit and tend strictly to business. He had to give up his "kitchen gin" parties and his poker games, and he and his wife had to substitute hamburger with onions for tenderloin with mushrooms; but, in the end, they found out they were having lots more fun.

All of which, of course, is only another way of saying that life does not taste just right unless we have a definite objective in it. The purchase of a home, for many thousands of people, provides that objective.

COMPLIMENT TO GERMANY

The Young plan of war reparations is a compliment to the German nation, according to its principal author. Under it the creditor nations are to collect from Germany a sum approximately 50 per cent greater than their total debt to the United States. In other words, the allies assume that Germany is industrious and skillful enough to carry all their war debts plus a substantial premium. Mr. Young thinks Germany can do it, too. Why? Not because she has what is regarded as basic raw materials, but because she has something more important. He says:

She (Germany) has, in large measure, a supply of that kind of raw material too little taken into account. In the world's affairs, namely a capacity for scientific research, and the ability to apply it and organize it in production. It is not unlikely that this particular kind of raw material may be the reservoir out of which these vast sums will be produced and paid.

In that case the rest of the world must be careful to avoid the enervating effects resulting from the receipt of such payments. We should all remember that the discipline of hard work and of heavy responsibility is like ly to do much for a people as well as for an individual. Let no man be sure, merely because he is a creditor of some one else's hard labor, that therefore he is strong and will always remain so.

That is a serious warning, given by a man who knows a good deal about world affairs, particularly European and American economics. Will thoughtful Americans take his words to heart?

THE ROLL TOP DESK

It had never been a very big business, but it had been moderately prosperous, and it had lasted for 50 years and now it was closing its doors. Its main office was on a side street a little way removed from the main business district. The glass show windows displayed the stock in trade—leather goods, harness of various kinds, queer-looking appliances to puzzle the casual onlooker, brief cases and straps and so on.

The fittings were not remarkable. Rather old-fashioned, they were; especially the old roll-top desk at the rear, where the owner, and his father before him, had sat to direct the business. The desk probably had been installed when the place was first opened, half a century ago. Now the business was being closed out. Bidders for the desk probably would be few. Roll-top desks of that type aren't in much demand now.

Indeed, speculating on the melancholy downfall of an honorable old firm, one is tempted to wonder whether that roll-top desk, preserved unchanged through all the years of change, might not be rather symbolic. To hang on to a roll-top desk through 50 years indicates a sort of conservatism, a clinging to old customs and old ways. But the last couple of decades, in the business world, have not been good years for the conservative. They have put the business man under the iron necessity of keeping abreast of the times mentally. Those who failed to do so have gone under.

This is not the same sort of world it was a generation ago. Developments of a startling nature have come fast. New inventions and new practices have arisen to pronounce disaster on any business executive who could not divorce himself from the old ways. The old pace was leisurely and dignified. But now? Speed is the great word. The airplane, the radio, the telephoto system, the long-distance telephone network, the telegraphic night letter—these are the insignia of the new order. They are the emblems of a multitude of changes.

As a result of all of this, incalculable changes are taking place in the business world. Old firms are vanishing, their holdings gathered up by the long arms of big corporations. Business of a small scale has to step fast and keep all of its wits about it if it is to survive. And here we come back to the roll-top desk. Isn't it possible that this old desk was a symbol of an inability to change, an inability to adapt an old-fashioned business organization and old-fashioned business practices to a new era?

The old ways may have been more pleasant, more gracious, more human—but they are gone, and weeping won't bring them back. The rule that the fittest shall survive was never as inexorable as it is in American business today. And the roll-top desk, with all that it symbolizes belongs to a by-gone era.

PEACE WITHOUT RESPONSIBILITY

Many Americans, like many people of other nations, are willing to co-operate in international peace measures as long as they do not have to assume any responsibility to maintain peace. It is pathetic, the faith such people have in pious resolutions and high-sounding formulas, when the words do not commit them to anything they cannot crawl out of.

It is something like faith in Santa Claus. We say peace is the greatest blessing a nation can have, and then expect to get it in our stocking without paying anything for it. We will not assume any responsibility! And when the next war comes—then, if the last war is any criterion, we will assume plenty of responsibility, because we will have to.

The Post-Mortem

WRITING a column at the end of one week for the beginning of the next is really very dispiriting. By the time Saturday afternoon rolls around we get that feverish desire to chuck everything into the waste basket and go looking for violets. We're sure there's a violet around here somewhere. But a man must live, even with Monday morning staring him in the face. (Why doesn't that committee get to work, anyway?)

We Refuse to Gyn Our Public,
but Come Ahead

Dear Jonah:

How would you like to get in on the ground floor of the company we're forming to start a peanut-brittle farm?

Oh, boy! Are we going to make the money.

You see, I got the offer as the result of my fine activities in behalf of your campaign to abolish Monday mornings.

The boys over at the fire station are organizing the peanut-brittle-raising company and they asked me to take charge of the publicity. They said the way I handled the Monday-morning abolitionism was very impressive and convincing.

Now I'm putting the matter up to you. If you want to go with me on the thing, O. K. We can sell the stock through your column—and you should see the stock. Several different colors and a gold seal that'll knock your eye out.

(The secret of the thing is that one of the firemen has produced peanuts more than a foot long, another has invented a system of raising the brittle right on the peanut. And is it good?)

I'll send you more details if you are interested.

Today's Anniversary

P. T. BARNUM'S DEATH

On April 7, 1891, P. T. Barnum, famous American showman, died at Bridgeport, Conn. His first real venture in showmanship occurred when he bought for $1,000 Joyce Heth, aged negro woman, reputed to be the nurse of George Washington. Although he was only 25 years old, Barnum created his own ballyhoo and exhibited his freak for considerable profit.

After meeting several reverses, each of which reduced him to poverty, Barnum bought the American Museum in New York. One of the greatest curiosities he displayed there was his "Fetive Mermaid." It had the head of a monkey and the body of a fish and was advertised as having been captured by Japanese fishermen.

In 1847 he introduced Jenny Lind, famous Swedish singer, to America, paying her $1,000 a night for 150 nights. The demand for seats was so great that tickets were auctioned off, bringing exorbitant prices. When two of his museums were destroyed by fire, Barnum established his "Greatest Show on Earth," a traveling circus and menagerie.

Barnum was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress but was four times elected to the Connecticut legislature.

FORD DOES ONE THING VERY WELL

Less than a year ago some journalist published an interview with Henry Ford, in which the game was to get Mr. Ford to O. K. this or that dietary fad or fancy. The but to the bitter and Mr. Ford skillfully evaded that and the set to concluded with the interviewer gasping for breath and Mr. Ford as naive as ever. The one thing the interview made clear was that Mr. Ford prefers his own notions about victuals to the theories or teachings of all other authorities. The only food fancy the Dearborn philanthropologist appeared to give halfhearted consideration was that a man is what he eats, if he eats mainly mutton he has sheepish ways; if he eats a lot of pork—then the interviewer completed his three columns by telling the one about the professor who as ably upheld that theory; the professor, of course, confessed that his own diet was principally nuts.

Now Mr. Ford openly champions the one-food meal. He announces that as a result of scientific researches conducted under his supervision he believes that people should eat nothing but fruit for breakfast, nothing but proteins for mid-day meal and nothing but carbohydrates at the evening meal.

Fruit, by the way, is practically nothing but carbohydrate. Fat, one gathers from the meager data given out by the automotive king, is not on the menu at all. However, it may be that a bit of fat will creep in along with the protein allowed for lunch, for it is really hard to find food protein in nature without some fat. It seems likely that Mr. Ford would conclude from those unpublished researches he has made, that nature is not to be trusted to provide proper food for man.

Certainly there are some persons for whom, and times when an all-fruit breakfast may be advisable. I can conceive of no sound reason or sensible excuse for restricting luncheon to protein material or dinner or supper to carbohydrate. It will take a great deal more than researches carried out by an army of experts under Mr. Ford's direction to modify the present views, may the knowledge of physiologists and nutrition authorities about this.

Milk, nature's ideal food for the human young, is a combination of protein, fat and carbohydrate (sugar). Until Mr. Ford's mechanical cow becomes a practical implement we may safely rely on the long series of experiments nature has made in the matter of food combinations.

Temperance in eating, of which Mr. Ford is a proponent and an exemplar, tends to prolong life, as all agree. Louis Cornaro was 40 before he even thought of this and his achievement of a century of life in his day (400 years ago) would be equivalent to living 10 to 140 years now. It remains to be seen whether Henry Ford can match Cornaro's record, the I hope he can and will, and that his may continue another century if the use of his brand of beneficence to mankind. Let us hope the food faddists will not do to Mr. Ford what the reduction faddists did to the late William Howard Taft.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Enlarged Vein Obliteration.
Kindly send me instructions for the treatment of varicose veins by the new method you mention. I am much bothered with varicose veins, and with one there is an ulcer which seems impossible to heal. (C. A. 1.)

Answer.—Not impossible, but difficult if you cannot remain off your feet. The only varicose ulcer impossible to heal is one in which cancer has developed. The chemical obliteration of varicose veins is the new method you refer to. Any good physician who is abreast of progress can give that treatment successfully in his office or at your home. It is applicable, and even advisable, in cases complicated by varicose ulcer. Patients who have been cured of their trouble describe this method as "magic." So it seems, compared to the crude method of surgical excision, which was all the old time doctor could offer such sufferers.

A Twin Ghost Laid.
May I tell my experience in regard to twins bearing children? I am a twin girl. My twin sister and I are 51. We were the last born of a family of seven children. I have borne three boys and four girls. My twin sister has borne four boys. The second and third being twin boys. So we have to laugh when we hear that superstition about the sterility of either or both of twin sisters.

(Mrs. K. M. A.)
Answer.—Attagirl. Nothing destroys the power of evil in a superstition so surely as to give it the merry haw-haw. Thank you for demolishing that one.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

O H, MY," said Scouty, "I am proud to think we Tynmites are allowed to see the Arch of Triumph, which we never will forget. We've often read of it in books, and now how wonderful it looks. The people here in France are very proud of it, I'll bet."

The Travel Man said, "Sure, they are! Folks from all over travel far to see this spot, like we have done. I wonder if you know that here below the broad, blue skies, this country's unknown soldier lies. The monstrous columns are his tomb and he lies just below."

"Now come, boys, let's be on our way. Some other things we'll see today. Let's lie down to the River Seine and hop aboard a boat. A man will take us for a ride and pretty soon on either side of this quite famous river you can look at as we float."

Not far away they found a dock and Clowny shouted, "Please don't rock the boat we're going to ride in. I don't want to take a splash. So far we've all behaved real well, but now let's see if you can tell just what is going to happen. Someone's always getting rasi."

This made the Travel Man laugh long. "You'll find the boat is strong and you can never rock it. It is much too big for that." They climbed aboard and eyed, "Hurrah!" And then the boat chug-chugged away. When passing people on the shore each Tynmyr waved his hat.

Soon Scouty cried, "Oh, look there! Just see what's towering in the air." It was the Eiffel Tower again. And what a pretty sight. They rode along the River Seine and then climbed back to shore again. The Travel Man said, "We will climb the tower before it's night."

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York — Beauty gets her man is a favorite Broadway theme. Show girls, according to the Manhattan credo, many wealthy admirers, who shower them with orchids, and live ever after in luxury, even if divorce does follow sometimes.

But how often does it happen? Rarely, it seems.

Consider then the sad stories of two former show girls whose only fortunes were their faces and who, after a time, saw the inevitable depreciation set in.

SALAD DAYS

Both were among the most decorative figures of song and dance shows a dozen years ago. Neither could sing, nor speak a dramatic line, but both were sufficiently ornamental to attract the movie scouts and both went to Hollywood. Soon they became stars in the films. At the height of their careers, their followings of cinema devotees were numbered by thousands.

Shop girls yearned and housewives thrilled when handsome lovers led them into the final climax of the happy ending. They were widely envied in their public and private romances.

About the latter the audiences could only guess. They had no way of showing that one—whom we shall call Mary—preferred the company of playboys, while the other—Eloise for our purpose—was a publicity addict.

Mary's alluring beauty was a fatal gift. It attracted a swarm of admiring men of wealth, but she chafed to be a good-time girl and a party pal. Play and work, mixed in wrong proportions, left their ineffaceable traces and her suitors vanished just before her final picture flopped.

Eloise, on the other hand, married, she thought shrewdly. Her husband was a penniless idler, but he was in a position to give her the publicity she craved and she was willing to pay the bills.

Then her beauty, too, slipped away. Protect it as she could, it was no match against the encroachment of age. Contracts were not renewed and her husband dissipated her wealth.

FADE-OUT

Here the two stories come to a common climax in the courts. Needing money, Mary sued a hotel for enormous damages. She exhibited the knee she said had been hurt when she tipped on a worn rug.

The jury was sympathetic, but neither it, nor the doctors, could see anything wrong with the knee that might have impaired her earning power. That power long since had been exhausted.

Eloise sued a beauty shop, alleging that her face had been scarred by one of the unnumbered treatments she took to eradicate the signs of years. She, too, lost.

For Mary and Eloise, the luxuries are gone. They ate their respective kinds of cake and must live, for the nonce at least, on bread.

The sequel? That will probably have to be decided by the imagination. Obscurity has descended like a wet fog, over their lives.

money never gets very far, for he will ruin his health, or sacrifice his friends, or drive so hard that there is nothing in it."

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — The farmer emerged victorious in his battle with the washerwoman on capitol hill the other day, but not before the vice president of the United States stepped up and delivered the knock-out punch.

It was one of the most amusing incidents which has occurred during the whole tariff fight in the senate—this "farmer vs. washerwoman" episode, and indicates just what a fix the worn and weary senators are in.

Clothespins was the issue, or to be more exact "spring" clothespins. The angular Snot of Utah started the fracas by proposing a duty on "spring" clothespins 10 cents higher than the prevailing one. Dale of Vermont and Hatfield of West Virginia whose states manufacture large quantities of the pins of the spring variety, rallied to his support.

Dale was particularly ardent. He made a lengthy speech in which he pleaded for the higher rate on the ground that it would enable the farmers to dispose of wood which was used now only to build fires.

—MERRIMENT

The Vermont senator's plea for this form of "farm relief" was too much for "Old George" Norris. Already troubled and disgusted with the turn things have taken of late in the senate, the gray-haired old warrior arose from his seat.

With withering sarcasm he leapt to his feet and pronounced the Vermont senator's speech on clothespins as "eloquent" and added that he wanted "to stress his argument."

"The farmer raises the wood—just think of it—out of which clothespins are made," said Norris. "Let us increase this tariff, and all over this broad land farmers will plant trees so that their great-grandchildren can make clothespins. Think of it!"

But Dale took no part in all this merriment. It was apparent that his interest in clothespins was both genuine and serious. He tried to tell Norris so, but the Nebraskan refused to be convinced.

Berkley of Kentucky asked facetiously why should there be any discrimination as between seasonal clothespins.

"What about summer and autumn and winter clothespins?" he asked bithely.

CLOTHESPIN VICTORY
The battle waxed warmer as it progressed. Soon it was out of bounds.

Finally they got back to clothespins—"spring" clothespins.

Police Struggle With Salt Law Violators In India

MAHATAMA IS NOT MOLESTED IN CAMPAIGN

60 Followers, Including Gandhi's Son, Are Seized by Government

Bombay, India.—(P)—Dispatches from Nadad state that three of Mahatma Gandhi's ablest lieutenants have been convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment for violating the salt laws in the Kaira district. The three were Gokaldas Dwarkadas, Darbar Gopaladas and Rahai Menbhai.

Dandi, Punjab, India.—(P)—Police and a party of followers of Mahatma Gandhi engaged in a scuffle on the beach this morning while volunteers engaged in the civil disobedience campaign were collecting salt in defiance of the government monopoly.

While so engaged the police arrived and demanded the salt which the volunteers refused to hand over. While the alter-action was in progress a number of villagers arrived at the beach and also began to collect salt.

The police then arrested the captain of the volunteers and others who had told the volunteers not to give up their salt. In the scuffle which followed two nationalists were reported slightly injured.

Mahatma Gandhi, who opened the civil disobedience campaign himself yesterday, arrived at Aat on the beach from Dandi shortly after the scuffle to observe his usual Monday silence and meditation.

ASKS ALL TO FOLLOW

In a speech written by him and read aloud by a volunteer Gandhi said he would come to Aat again tomorrow to collect salt with the volunteers. He exhorted all the villagers to do likewise. He advised them to come clad only in loin clothes as they could not afford to have their clothes torn. He also urged them not to surrender the salt they had collected even if the police broke their hands. Salt gathered by Gandhi yesterday has been refined and sold at auction for 67 rupees.

It is understood that Gandhi shortly will issue special pledges for public signature whereby the signatories bind themselves to use only contraband salt. The salt that Gandhi manufactures will be auctioned all over India, each successful bidder being expected to give back his purchase for reauctioning.

Mahatma Gandhi, who marched with his father to Dandi, has arrived at Bhimrad to take charge of the civil disobedience volunteers previously led by his brother, Ram Das, who was arrested yesterday.

A number of women volunteers have started the sale of contraband salt in Surat.

SIXTY ARRESTED

The British authorities made 60 arrests in answer to inauguration of the movement Sunday, among them Ram Das Gandhi, son of Mahatma Gandhi. The Mahatma himself was neither arrested nor molested.

Wading into the Gulf of Cambay here he and his devotees, who had followed him on a three week's trek from Ahmadabad, dipped vessels into the water. The liquid was evaporated later.

How widespread was Sunday's inauguration of the violation of the British salt monopoly laws was not established today, but there were indications of participation throughout the Gujarat and Bombay, and in Bengal. Strikers at Thana Station, Great Indian Peninsular railway about 20 miles from Bombay, tried passive resistance by standing on the track and blocking trains. Police beat them off.

Although it arrested 60 for salt manufacture throughout Bombay, an smashed the vessels in which the salt was to be made in one place in Bengal, the attitude of the government toward the movement was not clear. Gandhi was said to still court arrest, but it was not believed Viceroy Lord Irwin wishes to order anything which would tend to make a martyr of the aged man.

START OF MANUFACTURE

The Mahatma's inauguration of the campaign of civil disobedience was as striking and picturesque as it may be far-reaching. There were no police in sight as he gave the signal for disobedience of the salt laws over all India. Leading on the shoulder of the daughter of Almas T'sabi, retired Baroda district judge who will lead the volunteers if Gandhi is arrested, he went down into the sea to the accompaniment of shouts from his followers.

"Long live Mahatma Gandhi!" He dipped up a jug of water from the low gray line of breakers rolling in from the Gulf of Cambay, and carried it to the shore, where evaporation and procuring of the salt was affected.

Immediately after coming from the water he issued a statement to the press in which he said:

"Now that a technical or ceremonial breach of the salt law has been committed such a course is open to any one who wishes to risk prosecution. He may manufacture salt wherever he wishes and where ever convenient."

In conclusion it said: "This war against the salt tax should be continued during 'National week,' that is up to April 13. Those engaged in this sacred work should devote themselves to vigorous propaganda for a boycott against foreign cloth and the prohibition of liquor."

FISHING CONTINUES TO ATTRACT HOOVER

Washington.—(P)—President Hoover is looking forward pleasantly to weekly or bi-weekly visits to his Blue Ridge mountain fishing preserve until the occasion offers for a more extended vacation at a greater distance from the city.

EXPERT STATUTE IS QUESTIONED BY WISCONSIN COURT

Attorney Raises Five Points in Questioning Constitutionality

Madison.—(P)—The constitutionality of the "court expert statute," which permits a court to appoint medical experts who testify as to the sanity of a defendant, has been challenged in the state supreme court. The controversial point came before the court late yesterday and early today in the case of Rudolph Jessner, convicted of the slaying of a Madison policeman and now serving a life sentence. Jessner's attorneys came to the supreme court on a writ of error.

In challenging the constitutionality of the statute, Attorney Fred M. Wylie attacked a practice which has earned for Wisconsin a reputation for its speedy justice. Appointment by a court of unbiased alienists who offer medical testimony has long succeeded in preventing acquittal through the testimony of defense alienists.

Attorney Wylie's attack on the statute covers five points:

1. It requires the accused to furnish evidence against himself by subjecting him to examination and inquiry by the court-appointed experts and by so doing violates the constitutional rights of a defendant.
2. It violates the right of trial by jury, since by appointment of an expert, the judge endorses the expert and his testimony.
3. It gives the court the non-judicial function of crime investigation.
4. It transfers from the district attorney to the court the former's most distinct constitutional function—in investigation and prosecution of crime.
5. It deprives the accused of due process of law because it would change the character of criminal procedure.

Attorney Wylie pointed out in his arguments that in Wisconsin "it is the constitutional rule that the judge may intimate no opinion by act or word upon anything in the province of the jury to determine, and the credibility of witnesses is most peculiarly in their exclusive province."

In arguing that the statute requires the accused to furnish evidence against himself, Attorney Wylie said the statute requires insanity to be pleaded when the accused is first charged and that the court expert statute empowers the judge to commit the accused to an asylum for observation by experts and to use the information obtained at the trial.

On this point Attorney Wylie quoted from the United States and Wisconsin Supreme courts:

"That a proper result—that is, a conviction of one really guilty of an offense—may be thus reached is neither an excuse for nor a condonation of the use by the state of that which is so the result of its own violation of its own fundamental character as a criminal indifference to the state's obligation should not be judicial policy."

In arguing that the court expert statute delegates non-judicial functions to the court, the attorney said: "It is no more a judicial function for the court to conduct an investigation into the facts of a litigated case through appointed investigators than it would be a judicial function for the court to step down from the bench and make a like independent investigation in person in order that the results of such investigation might be made a part of the case."

duties of the presidency today refreshed by the rest and out-of-doors recreation of his first trip of the season to the camp on the Rapidan river.

He looked back upon a successful expedition against the mountain trout of his preserve, in the course of which he proved himself the champion fisherman of the party. The 31 fish that fell victim to his casting on Friday proved the largest catch of the group; although luck attended the efforts of all.

Mr. Hoover and his party reached the city just before dusk yesterday after driving the distance of more than 100 miles in a downpour of rain.

BATTLE ENDED FOR CONTROL OF FOX FILM COMPANIES

William Fox's Stock in Two Concerns Sold to Another Syndicate

New York.—(P)—The bitter fight which has been waged for months for control of the Fox film interests was at an end today.

Sale of the controlling stock of William Fox to a syndicate headed by Harley L. Clarke, president of General Theatres Equipment, Inc., was announced by Samuel Untermyer, Fox's attorney. Fox sold 151,000 shares of Class B stock of the Fox Film corporation and the Fox Theatres corporation.

Untermyer said he expected the retirement of Fox from control of the corporations would result in dismissal of the litigation pending in connection with affairs of the companies.

He said that Fox would continue with the companies for five years as chairman of the advisory board and that the companies would continue to produce and exhibit motion pictures under the name of William Fox.

A plan for refinancing will be issued by Bancamerica, Blair and company, Lehman brothers, Dillon, Read and Halsey Stuart and Company.

Litigation growing out of the financial difficulties of the Fox motion picture properties after the collapse of the stock market last autumn has grown till seven major suits are on file with 19 attorneys for record.

The suits include applications for the receivers for the Fox companies; one for dissolution of a trust agreement made by William Fox with John E. Otterson, president of the Electrical Products corporation and Harry L. Stuart, of Halsey Stuart and Com-

Pupils, Here's Way You Can Earn Fifty Cents For Your Trip To Washington

How many boys and girls of the Outagamie-co rural and parochial schools would like 50 cents to add to their graduation trip fund?

Well, here is the way you can get it. Sit down and write a letter to the On to Washington editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent, and tell him how you are earning the $25 for your commencement trip to Washington, D. C., next June.

If the suggestion is original, clever and practical you will receive a prize of 50 cents. Every week the Post-Crescent distributes a number of prizes, and you may as well try to get your share.

Already 76 boys and girls have been awarded prizes and there is no reason why you shouldn't get one. The contest is an easy one. If you don't think so just ask the boys and girls who already have received prizes. Prize lists are announced every Friday.

Boys and girls who are sending in letters should please remember to write their full name and address on each contribution they submit. In addition they should include the name of the school they attend. This is very important because this information facilitates the distribution of the prizes.

The contest is to run until late in May only a week or so before the big trip to Washington, which starts on June 11.

So come, boys and girls, get busy and see if you can win one of the prizes which are being distributed by the Post-Crescent.

The ideas you suggest must be original and they must be of such nature that the suggestions can be used by boys and girls in other parts of the county. These are the only requirements.

Proper Tools Required For Dry Fly Fishing

By B. A. CLATLIN

As stated in a former article, mid-summer and later trout fishing holds a charm for the dry fly purist in particular. The real grace and subtle skill is plainly apparent as you watch the ease and quiet with the quick of experience sails his fly out many yards to flutter softly down to the surface of the water exactly as would a live insect which nature sends there to feed the watchful trout.

This is the essence of perfection of all angling. And success is measured by the technique displayed. Such world known purists as the Rev. Henry Van Dyke, M. L. LaBranche and others have by years of conscientious study and application of this, proved to willing followers that more trout, and bigger trout, can be taken with dry flies than by any other method. Let no worm fisherman scoff at their teachings. It would be far better for them to imitate rather than deride. Indeed, one might as well ignore the techniques of science and cast his lot with chance.

However, before the angler can hope for success as a dry fly purist, he must first acquire the proper tools to work with. Let me hasten to say that a dry fly rod is not necessary to begin with. Naturally it is better than a cheap one. It will afford you more pleasure in using as would a car costing thousands of dollars be more comfortable to ride in, as compared with a humble "trolley." But a rod costing, say, fifteen dollars will do the work.

In selecting it, however, for dry fly casting see that it has the right "backbone." In other words, it must be a rather stiff—yet whippy. That feature is very essential.

A tapered line should be used, and a tapered leader of at least seven and a half feet length—like nine better. The reel is not of so much importance. I use both the single action and the automatic, depending on the weight of the rod used.

In dry fly fishing, remove all loops from your leader, if it has any, and use only one fly at a time.

Where to go? The Oconto river is a good stream for dry flies. From Mountain take old 32 to where it crosses the river. Go upstream to Cedar Rapids and on up to the old "Tar Dam." Or, keep to the right, from the town; go northeast to where you hit the county line. Drive west on this to the stream. Just above this is "Jack Pine Rapids." Farther south is "Chipmunk Rapids." Still farther down you will come to "Snow Falls." These are all good places for dry flies.

GET INFORMATION ON NEW $20 COUNTERFEIT

Word has been received at the Appleton post office that a new $20 counterfeit note, of small size, drawn on the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., has been detected in circulation. The note is of the series of 1925, check letter F, face plate No. 1, back plate No. 5, signed by H. T. Tate, treasurer of the United States; and A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury. This counterfeit is fairly well done, the department points out, and is apt to deceive the unwary handler of currency.

Trading is becoming popular in Germany. It seems the Swiss movement is spreading.

Your Question And Its Answer

J.A. Panneck, D.C.
Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION: Is Chiropractic effective in acute sickness?—J. H. S.

ANSWER: Chiropractic is even more effective in acute disorders than chronic disorders. Chiropractic is a comparatively new profession and many people hesitate to employ a Chiropractor until they have tried all other known methods. Thus it is that the cases that come to the Chiropractor are usually chronic ones that have been the rounds of other practitioners.

QUESTION: Does the patient recover rapidly under Chiropractic adjustments if suffering from a general rundown condition?—F. J.

ANSWER: As a rule recoveries occur in a great majority of all sicknesses because, after all, nature is the only great Doctor and the healing comes from within. Just as it is true that the healing comes from within so it is also true that the sickness occurs from internal causes. The province of Chiropractic is to hasten the recovery because the very fundamental principle in this modern health method is to permit normal expression of vital function through the nervous system. When this normal vitality has an opportunity to express itself, it quickly leads to health. The Chiropractor knows that, after all, a physical disorder must be corrected before health will return.

MOOSE ATTEND VALLEY FROLIC AT FOND DU LAC

About 20 Moose members from Appleton attended the Fox River Valley Moose Legion frolie Sunday at Fond du Lac. A large class of candidates was initiated during the afternoon and a banquet was served by members of Women of Mooseheart Legion of Fond du Lac. Entertainment was provided by the Hill sisters, daughters of a member of the Fond du Lac lodge.

Plans were discussed for a picnic for all Moose members, their families, and friends to be held in Appleton in August. Earl Bates was appointed general chairman of the event and the following members will be chairman of arrangements in their own towns: E. E. Cahall, Appleton; Emil Walda, Green Bay; Frank Munro, Marinette; William Beyer, Sheboygan; J. B. McCoy, Fond du Lac; Matt Gonerig, West Bond; James Nelson, Oshkosh; J. Weller, Clintonville; Arthur Vandenberg, Kaukauna. They will appoint sub-committees to work with them.

Harry Shanor, New York, grand regent, will be invited to attend and speak. If this picnic proves a success, it is probable that it will be an annual event, to be held in the various cities.

A report of the Moosehaven convocation was given by James Geraghty, district supervisor of Wisconsin. It was announced that Earl Bates was appointed deputy supreme dictator of Wisconsin a month ago.

LODGE NEWS

A mock trial, featuring a breach of promise suit, will be the feature of the stag social hour of Fraternal Order of Eagles at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at Eagle hall. A short business session will precede the program. The trial has been given several times at the both in Appleton and in surrounding cities, and has met with much success each time it was produced.

There will be a special meeting of Wavelly lodge No. 51, Free and Accepted Masons, at 7:30 Tuesday night at Masonic temple. Entered Apprentice degree will be conferred.

The J. T. Reeve circle, ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, will meet at 7:30 Tuesday night at Odd Fellows hall. Regular business will be discussed and initiation will be used.

Winnebago Presbytery Meets Here This Week

THE Winnebago Presbytery will be gathered by the congregation of Memorial Presbyterian church Tuesday and Wednesday at the church. The Presbytery will convene at 2 o'clock Tuesday at which time the Moderator's sermon will be given by the Rev. John T. Anderson, Westfield. The Lord's Supper will be administered by the Rev. Starr Lloyd, Oconto, and the Rev. J. Evans, De Pere. Examination of candidates for the ministry will be under the direction of the committee on education of which the Rev. R. A. Garrison is chairman.

Ladies of the church will serve supper Tuesday night and luncheon Wednesday noon to all delegates to the Presbytery. The delegates include ministers and one elder from every Presbyterian church in the district.

Homebuilders of the church will present a pageant at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the church, under the direction of Mrs. F. W. Schneider. This will be on observance of the eightieth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian church in Appleton. The pageant will depict the beginning of the church and will follow its history through to the present time.

MEET IN 1850

In 1850, the first Presbyterian meeting was held in the law office of Frederick Packard. The Rev. Mr. Robinson, Neenah, presided at the morning service at which seven people were present. In the afternoon, 27 members attended. At first the Congregational and Presbyterian people worshipped together, but the Presbyterian church was organized Nov. 13, 1870, when the population of Appleton was 4,513. The work of organization was done by the Rev. Willard Gibson, Mattoon, Ill., and the Rev. J. E. Chapin, Neenah. The roll of members of the first organization contained the names of many prominent citizens. The first organization meeting was held at the Edgerton House, a hotel which stood on the present site of the Masonic temple.

The following year a strange situation was encountered. The Presbyterians had a minister and the Congregationalists had a church, and thus a schism was effected with the Presbyterians worshipping in the Congregational church, with a Presbyterian minister officiating. In 1878, the Rev. J. B. Andrews, a Civil war veteran, came to Appleton and reorganized a Presbyterian congregation. David Smith had left money and a lot for the building of a church and with this to start on, the Rev. Andrews managed the project until on Feb. 15, 1880 he dedicated the new church.

He was unable to lift the debt of $3,000 which was incurred after his departure. The Rev. D. F. Banks took over the pastorate and lifted the debt by soliciting subscriptions. He himself donated $715 and the Rev. Andrews later sent $1,000.

This entire story of the church in Appleton will be portrayed in the pageant. Members of Homebuilders will take the parts of these people who were instrumental in bringing the church into being.

PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kons, W. Lawrence-st., entertained at dinner and supper Sunday afternoon at their home in honor of the birthday anniversary of their nieces, Valoria and Arleen West. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheet, Kaukauna, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Martin, Neenah. Cards and games provided the entertainment. Fifteen guests were present.

Mrs. A. Forster, E. John-st., entertained her sons and daughters and their families at a dinner Sunday at her home in honor of her seventy-first birthday anniversary. Mrs. Frank Warbeck, Maplewood, was the out of town guest. About 20 people were present.

Andrew Simons, New Franken, celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary Sunday evening at his home. Cards and games provided the entertainment. A birthday cake with 80 candles was a feature of the evening. Appleton people who attended included Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Tillman and daughter Joan Mary. Mr. Simons is very active, having the oldest man to take out a hunting license in Brown-co last fall.

CLUB MEETINGS

The Dramatic club will hold an important meeting at 7:30 Tuesday night at the Womens club. A short business session will take place after which a group of the members will present a pantomime, "Miss Popularity."

Members of the Brownie Pack made Lambda-Iota booklets at the meeting Saturday morning at the Womens club playhouse. The girls use the booklets for making the good books which they do. Several of the members expect to finish their booklets by next Saturday.

Five girls are ready to be enrolled into the national organization, but they must wait until a group of eight is ready.

A taffy pull entertained the girls at the regular Sunday "cozy" at the Womens club Sunday afternoon. There will be no more meetings until April 27, when a hike will be held.

Phi Mu Alumnae society will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis H. Hays, Memorial dr., Monday evening. Mrs. Eugene Pierce will be the assistant hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Smith are spending several days in Helot. Orville Hegner returned Monday morning from Milwaukee where he spent the weekend.

Glee Club Sings Here This Week

THE Lawrence Men's glee club, which has just returned from a two-weeks' tour of cities of southern and western Wisconsin, will appear in home concert at Memorial chapel Thursday evening. The club, composed of 43 members, under the direction of Carl J. Waterman, dean of the Conservatory, has had a very successful tour, with large audiences at nearly every concert. In Madison, on March 23, there were 1,250 in the audience, it is reported, and proportionately large audiences have heard them in the smaller cities.

The program will include numbers by the glee club and by Venzel Albrecht, '30, Kewaunee, violin soloist; David Bruce Secular, '30, Oshkosh, tenor soloist; and Russell Danburg, '31, Miller, S. D., pianist and accompanist. Albrecht is a student of Percy Fullinwider, Secular, of Carl J. Waterman, and Danburg of Gladys Ives Brainerd.

The concert on Thursday will conclude the itinerary of the thirty-fifth annual glee club tour.

EAGLES HOLD SERVICE FOR LATE MEMBERS

The Rev. D. E. Dosserman gave the memorial address at the annual memorial service for deceased members of Fraternal Order of Eagles Sunday afternoon at Trinity English Lutheran church. About 250 members and friends attended. Rev. Dosserman reviewed the work done by the order, especially the welfare of members and in commending the members for the thought behind the service said, "It is a beautiful custom and demonstrates the fact that your minds are set on other things than those of this life." The talk was based on the text, Philippians, 1:21.

Charles Schimpf read the roll call of the honored dead, Arthur Daelke, chaplain, led the prayer and Frank Huntz, past worthy president, gave the pledge. The service was sung by Mrs. D. E. Dosserman and daughter, Irene. Miss Leone Tesel presided at the organ. During the service the audience sang several anthems.

The members met at Eagle hall before the service and marched in a body to the church, led by the drum corps. The committee in charge included Frank Huntz, Otto Tilly and Charles Schimpf.

COLLEGES ARE NEEDED WITH DUAL CURRICULA

Madison—(P)—A college with dual curricula—an embodying present methods, the other teaching students to meet typical and fundamental human problems—can save the liberal arts college of the university, Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, believes.

At the present time colleges of liberal arts are being gradually snuffed out, he says, because specialization has become intensified and too great freedom of students in choosing courses of study is permitted.

Under his plan, Dr. Frank would rate the dual curricula on equal basis. Study of humanity would be concurrent with study of academic subject matter, he says.

"A man from irrational fear," he says, "develops the priceless power of courage. Nerve and nurture the inherent urge to create. Release sex from sentimentality and sniggering, and bring it into the sun of sincerity."

An orientation program, concentration on methods of teaching rather than material, and combination of experiment with teaching are recommended as steps in improving curriculum by Dr. Frank.

SELL GREENVILLE LAND TO SATISFY MORTGAGE

A parcel of land in the town of Greenville was sold at public auction Monday morning at the courthouse by Sheriff John Lappen for $9,195.82 to satisfy a mortgage foreclosure judgment granted in municipal court on Feb. 19, 1929. The property was purchased by Eliza Douglas, who also held the mortgage. The land formerly was owned by Hugo L. Tolz, manager.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

CLAIRVOYANCE. I read people's thoughts," Sue answered lightly when Jack Thornton asked her how she had guessed that Barbara had suggested that Sue herself might prefer to let a supposed engagement between Harry and Barbara ride for a while, in order to keep people from thinking that she had desired to wear Jack's ring. "Anyway, I told Donald Payne all about it, so one paper has the story straight."

"The thing I'm going to do now," said Jack, "is to drive to the Citizen office and demand that they give an apology just as much space as they did that crazy frame up. We'll take Barbara along."

But Barbara refused to accompany them. "Goodness, no," she said and made her tones appealing and lonesome. "I'll be frightened to death in an office with machinery going all around me and men swearing and people hurrying back and forth. For your own good, Sue, I'd drop the story."

Jack spoke then in a stern, commanding tone. "Well, in that case, since she had the other ring, suppose we make an announcement, too, Sue. What do you say about that, Barbara? The idea O. K.?"

If Barbara was perturbed she did not show it. All her life she had had everything she wanted, from a pink china tea set to an exclusive claim to any masculine admirer whom she desired. Everything—except an equal. Barbara wasn't afraid. And she loved the limelight, and Sue, not she, had been holding it.

"Why, of course it is all right," she said, the barest flicker of golden lashes showing that she did find an objection to the plan.

Even if Sue had approved of the plan to let Harry and Barbara enact the story for a few weeks she could not have sanctioned this move, and she knew, too, that it was just a dramatic gesture on the part of Jack Thornton.

"No, Barbara, I like orderliness and I'd rather straighten this out. I happen to have promised Harry Becker that I will marry him and he isn't a red top to be spun around from one pair of hands to another."

"No? Some of his money might spill out of his pockets, I suppose," Barbara said, but her voice was so low that Jack, who had gone to the telephone to ask the city editor of the Citizen to wait until he came, didn't hear.

"I'm not after Harry's money," Sue answered, in a cold, clear voice. "Of course you're not," Barbara was solicitous at once, as though she knew she had gone too far. "I beg your pardon. I... I'm just as sorry as you are about it all, and here, take your ring before I lose it and make everything worse."

Sue was glad when they were out of the house at last and she discovered that the newspaper explanation was very easy to make. The city editor, however, shielded the girl who had written the story in a way that made Sue gasp. He himself took the blame, made profuse apologies, and promised to correct the story in every edition of the next day's sheet.

"By the way," he asked, as they were leaving. "Where's Becker? How does it happen the other two members of the misconnected quartet are here together?"

ALASKAN VILLAGERS START YEAR'S FISHING

Point Barrow, Alaska—(P)—With the northern sky slightly alight all night, nearly every native man in this northernmost Alaskan village was out fishing early today to hunt and fish in the harbor.

A sudden change in wind and current finally opened the choked harbor yesterday but the religion of the natives forbade them from hunting or fishing on Sunday and they were forced to wait until midnight.

They waited impatiently, for famine loomed near because of the exodus of land game from this region and the long weeks that the harbor has been choked with mountainous, unscalable ice.

Northerly and westerly winds, during the winter, brought ice across the Arctic ocean from Siberia, crushed it on the coast here, high as houses in some places, and natives were prevented from hunting polar bear and seal and from fishing.

For a time it was feared this village would again be ice-locked through the year as was the case of 1922.

Coincident with the worst ice conditions in years, natives have experienced the worst trapping season on land that any can remember.

When the ice cracked up yesterday great clouds of vapor rose from the moving water to the colder air which was 30 degrees below zero.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly colder in east and south portion tonight; rising temperature Tuesday.

GENERAL WEATHER
The low pressure area which was centered over Lake Superior Saturday morning has increased in intensity and moved eastward, causing light precipitation in the lake region and heavy rains along the north Atlantic coast. This is followed by high pressure over the upper Missouri Valley, bringing fair weather to all sections west of the Mississippi River and high winds and colder to the lake region and upper Mississippi Valley. Another "low" is moving in over the Canadian Northwest attended by rising temperatures in western Canada and the northwestern states. Fair weather is expected in this section tonight and Tuesday, with slightly warmer Tuesday.

Interesting Menus

There's nothing quite like the taste of fresh maple syrup. The "first run," which usually is considered the lightest colored and most delicately flavored, is delicious served plain with warm biscuits, pancakes or waffles. Desserts sweetened with real maple syrup have a flavor that can't be imitated.

The housewife who plans for a small family will find that a full gallon of syrup may spoil before she can use it up. The syrup not wanted for immediate use in the spring can be canned in pint jars to be used later as wanted. Reheat syrup to the boiling point, pour into sterilized jars and seal. Wrap each glass jar in a damp towel to completely cover the jar—bottom and sides. This prevents the jar from breaking when the boiling syrup is poured in to it. Fill jar perfectly full and seal at once.

Since maple syrup is usually less expensive bought by the gallon than in smaller quantities and since there are so many ways to use it for "special" occasions, a gallon of maple syrup is a good investment.

Maple gelatine is a simple dessert that even an invalid or small child can enjoy.

Maple mousse, maple parfait and maple frozen custard are amazing good and easy to make.

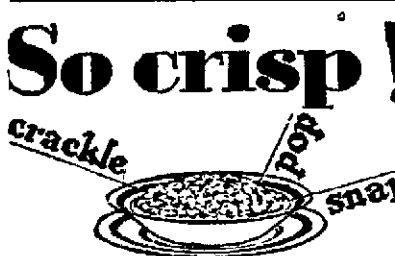

Maple syrup cake and cookies are ideal for spring-time refreshments.

MAPLE GELATINE
One and one-half tablespoons granulated gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water, 3 cup hot milk, 2 cup maple syrup, 2 eggs (whites), few grains salt.

Soften gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Add scalding hot milk and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Let stand until mixture begins to stiffen. Put unbeaten whites of eggs into a large bowl and beat until stiff, gradually adding maple syrup. Slowly add gelatine, beating constantly. Add salt and beat with beater until stiff. Turn into a mold first dipped in cold water and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. Serve with boiled custard made with yolks of eggs.

MAPLE MOUSSE
One and one-fourth cups maple syrup, whites 2 eggs, 2 cups whipping cream, few grains salt. Beat whites of eggs until stiff. Cook syrup while beating eggs. Slowly add syrup to beaten whites of eggs, beating constantly. Fold in cream whipped until firm with a few grains of salt. Turn into mold and freeze without stirring. Pack in a mixture of six parts finely chopped ice to one part salt. Scrape mixture down from sides of mold as it freezes with a stout spatula.

MAPLE SYRUP CAKE
One and one-fourth cups maple syrup, 6 eggs, 1 cup pastry flour, 2

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO ELDERLY MENASHA FISHERMAN

John Urban Falls into Water While Fishing from Railroad Bridge

Menasha—A nocturnal fishing trip ended with the death of John Urban, 73, 825 Plankard, at about 3:30 Sunday morning. Urban and his son went out about 1 o'clock in the morning to fish from the railroad bridge near their home. Later in the morning John, Jr., left for a few minutes. When he returned he found his father in the water below the bridge.

Menasha police and fire departments were called, arriving at the bridge shortly after 3:30. Dr. W. P. McGrath, city physician, pronounced Urban dead. The immediate cause of death apparently was a heart attack. Dr. McGrath reported. The head bruises received from the fall from the bridge were not sufficient to be fatal he stated.

Urban was born in Germany in 1859, coming to this city 47 years ago, where he had lived since.

He is survived by his wife, one son, John, Jr., of Menasha, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Ashenbrenner, Menasha, and Mrs. Clara Gardener of Milwaukee. He also is survived by seven grand children and two great grandchildren.

The body will be taken home from the Menasha funeral home Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be held in St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, Rev. W. B. Polaczky officiating.

RECEIVE PLANS FOR LIBRARY ADDITION

Library Board Fails to Decide Whether Addition Will Be Built

Menasha—An addition to the Menasha public library may be built on the southeast corner of the building with an entrance on Water-st. The addition, if constructed, will provide a children's room.

At a meeting of the library board Friday, an Oshkosh architect presented plans for the addition, showing the possibilities of construction with the probable cost. Nothing was definitely decided, but further action will be taken soon.

LOOP BOWLING TEAM IN MADISON TOURNEY

Menasha—The Loop Cafe bowling team participated in the Four Lakes bowling tournament at Madison Saturday evening. The squad totaled 2,792 pins. Mike Maulout and W. H. Pierce took third place in doubles with 1,218. Cliff Pierce rolled high single series for the team with 620. The team is composed of W. H. Pierce, Mike Maulout, Cliff Pierce, Doll Mayhew and George Pierce.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—The Germania society will meet in Germania hall Monday evening.

The Masonic lodge was entertained Saturday evening at the regular weekly social meeting. Cards and darts were played.

Menasha Elks held their regular weekly stag party in the lodge rooms Saturday evening. Skat, whist, and Schafkopf were played.

CAR HITS DITCH, BUT OCCUPANTS ARE UNHURT

Menasha—An automobile accident on highway 14 near Wavelly beach Sunday afternoon demonstrated the whims of lady luck, involving great damage to the car, and no injuries to the occupants. Two men who said they were from Zion City were seen careening down the road about 5:30 Sunday afternoon. Shortly afterwards they lost control of their automobile, swerved into the ditch on the right side of the road, and turned over. Neither of the men were injured, although spectators report that the car was badly wrecked.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB OUTLINES ACTIVITIES

Menasha—Visitors from five cities were present at a meeting of the Amateur Radio club in the Memorial building Sunday afternoon. Norman Beck, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting. Representatives attended from Appleton, Seymour, Hilbert, Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac.

A home was killed in Georgia recently while battling with a camel. Now watch the prohibitionists capitalize the incident.

FISH STORIES AND POLES TAKE HOLD ON MENASHA PEOPLE

Menasha—Fish poles and fish stories are getting their grip upon Menasha residents with the coming warm weather. Several people were in Winneconne Sunday afternoon, fishing from the bridge that spans the river there. An eye witness reports that pickerel, pike and perch were being caught in great numbers and that the prize catch was a big perch that weighed all of one and one half pounds.

Premont attracted Menasha Waltonians. A Heckrodt and H. J. Ferro report that they caught several pike from one to three pounds in weight there. They stated that several hundred boats out during the afternoon.

WEST BEND TEAM LEADS PIN MEET

Ray Deickhoff Post Goes into Lead With Count of 2,749

Menasha—The annual American Legion state bowling tournament got under way here Saturday night, following a parade to the alleys headed by the Menasha Legion drum corps, state league officers, and about 40 legionnaires. A similar parade was held Sunday afternoon. During the weekend eight cities sent 72 five-men teams, 24 doubles, and 48 single entries to the meet.

In the singles H. Russell of Oshkosh took first place with 673, followed by Dr. Fredrick of Oshkosh with 617. H. Singman of West Bend went into third place with 608, rolling high single game of 214.

Hartford bowlers took first and second honors in the doubles, J. Hart and W. Gumm recording 1,109, and J. Peters and B. Zurs shooting 1,108.

The Ray Deickhoff post of West Bend took high team honors with a 2,747, and the Marion squad placed second with 2,749.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

MRS. H. M. NORTHPROP

Menasha—Mrs. H. M. Northrop died at the family home on Broad-st. early Sunday morning.

Mary Fisher was born in West Bloomfield, N. Y., and came to Menasha in 1875 with her father, who was at the time interim pastor of the First Congregational church of Appleton. After her father's death, she and her mother made their home with her sister's family here, until 1882 when they all moved to Minneapolis. She was married to Mr. Northrop in Minneapolis in 1885 and went from there to their home in North Dakota.

They were in the Dakotas and Minneapolis until 1897 when, on the death of Mr. Northrop's father, they came to Menasha. They made their home here since.

Mrs. Northrop was a member of the First Congregational church and was active in work of the women's societies, especially the Missionary society of which she was secretary at the time of her death. Mrs. S. V. S. Fisher of Minneapolis is the only one of her immediate family still living.

The funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

ERNEST MEYER

Menasha—Ernest Meyer, 70, died at 11 o'clock Sunday morning following a short illness at his home on Austin-ave. Mr. Meyer came to Menasha 18 years ago from Antigo, where he had resided the greater part of his life. For the past few years he had been employed as a crossing tender for the Chicago-Northwestern railway company at Olive-st. Surviving were his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Anna Gorman, Mrs. Herman Boness and Mrs. Edward Hoehn all of Menasha. There also is one sister, Mrs. Anna Cox of Antigo. The funeral will be held at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon from the home of the daughter at 311 Terry-st. The services will be conducted by the Rev. E. C. Kollath, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

MENASHA CLUBS FETE HAREFOOT PLAYERS

Menasha—The Menasha Kiwanis and Rotary are entertaining members of the University of Wisconsin Harefoot club in the Memorial building Monday noon. Following the luncheon the guests from the dramatic club gave a short entertainment. The Kiwanis were in charge of the meeting.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS TWO CALLS ON SATURDAY

Menasha—The fire department responded to two calls Saturday afternoon. The first place was at the Joseph Boehm residence on Winneconne-ave, where a blaze had started in the chimney. The second was on Reed-st where a grass fire had started in a field. As there is no water service in the vicinity of the fire, the firemen were compelled to use shovels and brooms to put out the blaze.

KIWANIS CLUB TO MEET WITH CHURCH SOCIETY

Menasha—Kiwanis club will meet Tuesday evening with the Brotherhood of the English Lutheran church at the church dining room. A supper will be served at 6:30. The speaker will be Judge W. Haase of Marinette, who will talk on the legal side of the trial of Christ.

TRADE CONFERENCE OPENS ON TUESDAY

Two-day Session Will Be Directed by University Representatives

Neenah—R. E. Ellingwood and H. R. Deering of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division will open a two-day retail trade conference at noon Tuesday at the Valley Inn. They are being brought here by the vocational school heads cooperating with the Merchants Home association.

Mr. Ellingwood is assistant dean of the extension division and Mr. Deering is on the business administration faculty. Both are on the editorial board of the Wisconsin Retail Bulletin.

The opening talk will be given by Mr. Ellingwood whose subject will be When Retailers Get Together. Mr. Deering will discuss Meeting Your Customers. Both will talk on effective selling methods by the man behind the counter. Both speakers are experienced counter men.

The second day will be devoted to Menasha with talks at noon following a luncheon at Hotel Menasha and in the evening at the Butte des Morts auditorium.

In the singles H. Russell of Oshkosh took first place with 673, followed by Dr. Fredrick of Oshkosh with 617. H. Singman of West Bend went into third place with 608, rolling high single game of 214.

Mr. Meyer came to Menasha 18 years ago from Antigo, where he had resided the greater part of his life. For the past few years he had been employed as a crossing tender for the Chicago-Northwestern railway company at Olive-st. Surviving were his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Anna Gorman, Mrs. Herman Boness and Mrs. Edward Hoehn all of Menasha. There also is one sister, Mrs. Anna Cox of Antigo. The funeral will be held at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon from the home of the daughter at 311 Terry-st. The services will be conducted by the Rev. E. C. Kollath, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

They were in the Dakotas and Minneapolis until 1897 when, on the death of Mr. Northrop's father, they came to Menasha. They made their home here since.

Mrs. Northrop was a member of the First Congregational church and was active in work of the women's societies, especially the Missionary society of which she was secretary at the time of her death. Mrs. S. V. S. Fisher of Minneapolis is the only one of her immediate family still living.

The funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

$91.86 SPENT DURING POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Neenah—A total of $91.86 was spent by candidates in the spring election, according to reports made Saturday to H. S. Zemlock, city clerk.

Of this amount Oliver Olson, candidate for city treasurer, spent $2.60; Walter Loehning, successful candidate for treasurer, $31.60; Mrs. Helen K. Stuart, successful candidate for alderman of First ward, $38.15; Phillip Reimer, candidate for alderman in the First ward, $3.75; and John Kuehl, candidate for treasurer, $15.75. In all cases the money was spent for newspaper and poster advertising. Those who did not spend anything were E. C. Arne-mann, George E. Sande, candidate for mayor; E. J. Wright, John Stip, Charles Graham, Edwin Hanson, Ralph Dietz, Robert Marten and E. C. Aylward, candidates for aldermen; Gustaf Kalfas, J. B. Schaeffer, J. P. Prebensen, Henry Schultz, and Charles Korotev, candidates for supervisors; O. W. Smith, successful candidate for assessor; Miss Irene Stip and Clarence Arne-mann, candidates for treasurer.

FRATERNITY CLUB TO MEET AGAIN TUESDAY

Neenah—The last of the series of supper meetings for the Methodist Fraternity club will be held Tuesday evening at the church dining room.

Coach George Christoph is to have charge of the program which will follow the supper at 6:30. This program will open with group singing, led by Clarence Peterson. After supper there will be an informal discussion about church activities, past present and future. Following the supper a program of sports will be played, including darts, volleyball, indoor baseball. Championship contests will be held in several of the sports for which prizes are to be awarded. Fathers and sons will vie with each other for honors.

Neenah—The high school football team, next fall will play some night games. Its first night game will be Oct. 4, at New London and the second night game will be Nov. 15 at Menasha. These cities have coupled their football fields with lights for night playing. The idea of equipping Citizens' athletic field for night games has not been considered by the local school board. Neither has special training for the football team been discussed.

Tennis, field work and baseball now is on the program until school closes in June. Track men have been on the cinders for the past two weeks.

SCHNELLER IS ALMOST SURE OF GRID BERTH

Neenah—John Schneller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schneller of Neenah, is almost sure of a place on the University of Wisconsin varsity football team, according to announcements made at Madison. A Sunday announcement states that "indications are that John Schneller, a Neenah find, has ranked pretty high as an offensive fullback, and that Coach Thistlewaite was contemplating using him at the fullback berth on offense and at end on the defense, shifting Gantenbein, a clever man at diagnosing plays, behind the line on defense." Schneller is a freshman this year.

COUNCIL WILL HEAR REPORT ABOUT BIDS

Neenah—The common council will meet Tuesday evening to consider the report of the board of public works on bids recently received for improving Elm and Oak-sts and Winneconne-ave, and for sewers. A meeting of the board will be held at 7:30 to receive any objections to assessments made against properties along which the improvements are to be made.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held on the evening of April 15 when the year's work will be finished and new council will be seated.

ASSESSORS START TO ASSESS PROPERTY

Neenah—Assessors O. W. Smith and T. J. Baird started work Monday morning in Neenah. Last year the assessors placed the assessed valuation of the city at within $200,000 less than $16,000,000. The assessment work must be completed by the first Monday in August.

SINCLAIR TO SHOW MORE EARNINGS IN YEAR JUST CLOSED

Actual Figures Not Yet Available, but Reports Are Promising

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES

(This is the seventh of a series of brief analyses by Mr. Hughes of the principal oil stocks. The intent is not to recommend the purchase or sale of any particular stock but to give the investor such information as may enable him intelligently to chart his own course.)

New York—Senior to its common stock Sinclair Oil has almost $88,000,000 of funded debt, a contingent liability of $42,000,000 in other bonds and over $16,000,000 in preferred stock. Before considering the status of the junior shares analysts must concern itself with the securities that precede them.

There are three bonds, direct obligations of the corporation, a 7 per cent issue due in 1927 outstanding to the amount of about $44,000,000 callable at 105 and selling only slightly under that price, a 6 1/2 per cent issue due in 1928 outstanding to the amount of $22,400,000 callable at 105 and selling somewhat under that price and a 6 per cent issue due September 1 next outstanding to the amount of about $18,500,000 and selling around par.

In 1928 interest charges were earned 2.85 times and it is believed that the 1929 showing was much better than that. On this basis the margin of safety is ample and the bonds give a high return although because of the limitations of the call price they do not have much speculative attraction.

Sinclair Oil preferred is an 8 per cent issue redeemable at 110 around which price it sells in the open market. Here too there is little opportunity for price appreciation but there is a high yield. It is improbable that the preferred will be called but the fact that it is subject to call holds it down in market price. The common is, of course, a speculation the future of which is bound up with that of the oil industry. At this writing the 1929 earnings statement is not available but it is unofficially estimated that net for the common stock will be around $2.75 a share which compares with actual earnings for 1928 of $2.21 a share.

The present dividend rate is $2 annually which is a generous distribution for a company with these earnings. The market price takes all that into account, however.

Talks To Parents

PATIENCE
By Alice Judson Peale
Patience is one of those old-fashioned virtues which, for parents at least, can never be out of fashion. From the time children learn to crawl until they have passed the painful stage of adolescence their demands upon our patience never cease.

The modern mother knows that patience in the nursery is more than an abstract, ethical duty; it is her contribution to her child's development.

Unless she is patient of his first awkward efforts to pull on his shoes, to turn the water taps, to carry his chair, she knows that she is obstructing his growth and standing in the way of his learning.

Children learn with their hands and it is for clumsy, blundering, little fingers that mothers need most patience during those early years. Later on our children find more complicated ways to try us. It is during the ages of 6 and 10 that we need to keep in mind that children are children, not small adults. For years then we need to remember that they probably will be noisy, awkward, loud and more or less dirty.

SIX PROBATE CASES LISTED FOR HEARING

Six probate cases are listed for hearing at a special term of Outagamie-co court at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning before Judge Fred V. Heinemann at the courthouse. Cases on the calendar are: Hearing on petition for administration in the estate of Arthur W. Bettner; hearing on proof of will in the estate of William Alger and Laura A. McLeish; hearing on claims in the estate of Louis D. Kurr; hearing on final account in the estate of Maude Hilligan; hearing on construction of will in the estate of Sarah Hegner.

They will break in on our pleasantest social hours. They will leave black marks on the towels and spill things at table. And always we need to bear in mind that children may be trained, may be guided, may be taught, but that nothing worth while was ever yet accomplished by the sharp voice and the angry moment which marks the momentary loss of our own self-control.

SHE THOUGHT:
"I'd gladly sit next to you—if it weren't for 'B. O.'"
Yet, to be polite,

Another polite snub—now she knows the reason... "B. O."

SHE WAS a newcomer in the neighborhood—eager to make friends. But in spite of her cordial pleasant ways, she couldn't! A few polite calls at first—a few polite invitations. Then—dropped!

She was distressed—bewildered. It wasn't the first time this had happened. What could be the reason? Then one day she found out. "B.O."—body odor . . . Now she has many invitations—scores of friends. She knows the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

Who can say "not guilty"?
If we always knew when we were guilty of "B.O.", of course we'd correct it at once. But it's so easy to offend and never suspect it. Everyone perspires. Pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste

Appleton Opens Baseball Season At Kimberly, May 11

PLAY FIRST HOME GAME MAY 18, WITH NEENAH - MENASHA

Complete Schedule for Season to Be Announced Friday by Loop Secretary

APPLETON baseball team will open its 1930 season at Kimberly Little Chute baseball club, according to the revised schedule approved by the managers and moguls Sunday afternoon at a meeting at the Conway hotel.

Originally the season was to have opened at Appleton with Neenah-Menasha battling the Fords. Apparently that card did not meet with approval, however, for Sunday the powers that be saw fit to change things around and arrange a new card.

The first game for Appleton fans out in the Appleton open air stadium will be played Sunday, May 18, with Clusman's Green Sox. The second game will be played June 1 with Wisconsin Rapids as the opponents.

Two weeks later Neenah-Menasha Falls will come to Appleton and on June 29 Green Bay will again visit here.

Les Smith will bring his Kaukauna proteges into town on Sunday, July 6, and the club then will be on the road until July 20 when Kimberly Little Chute will pay another visit.

A week later Wisconsin Rapids is booked to play here.

The last month's play will have Neenah at the local park, August 17, and a week later Kimberly-Little Chute. Kaukauna will be here for the last game on the home card.

Approving the schedule was the only business before the moguls Sunday. Six teams will make the race this year. Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kimberly-Little Chute, Kaukauna, Green Bay and Wisconsin Rapids.

The complete schedule for the season will be announced Friday, according to George W. Calhoun, secretary of the league.

NELLER, JENSEN WIN VOLLEYBALL HONORS

The Appleton volleyball doubles team of John Neller and Arthur Jensen won third place in a meet held at Oshkosh Saturday. Twelve teams from Oshkosh, Kimberly, Appleton, Neenah and Kaukauna were entered.

The Appleton delegation consisted of two teams, the Neller-Jensen combination and another of Al Bradford and Guy Barlow.

First place in the meet went to Warren Cowley and Abraham Oshkosh. Elks club second place to George Christoph and A. J. Courchane of Kimberly.

Neller and Jensen went into the semi-finals in the double elimination before being beaten by the champions and then were booked to play Bradford and Barlow. The latter two conceded a win and Jensen and Barlow and topped the third honors.

ATHENS CHALLENGES CATHOLIC CAGE CHAMPS

Chicago—(AP)—Athens, Tex., high school, winner Saturday night of the university of Chicago's national inter-scholastic basketball tournament has challenged DeLassalle of Chicago to a game for the national high school title.

Bob Moran, a DeLassalle alumnus representing that team, said today the game probably would be played Wednesday night at Loyola gymnasium.

BABE RUTH HURT IN EXHIBITION GAME

Dallas, Tex.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees has legs as his annual home run pursuit of Babe Ruth, and the Babe has helped him by sustaining an injury to his right leg that will keep him out of action for about a week. Lou got his first homer of the training season in the second inning of yesterday's game between the Yankees and Dallas.

In the fourth frame, Ruth rounded second base sharply and wrenched a leg muscle painfully. He does not expect to play again until the Yankees reach New York.

95 GAMES WILL WIN A. L. FLAG, MACK SAYS

Philadelphia—(AP)—Connie Mack, big mogul of the champion Athletics, is telling the world that if his team wins 95 games this year it probably will retain the league championship.

"I think 95 games will win the pennant in our league this year," he declared. "Also I think it will be mighty hard for any club to win that many, with the improvement I have noted in our league." In leading the league last year the A's won 104 and lost 46.

TUT, BRUCE FLOWERS MEET IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(AP)—The meeting of King Tut, Milwaukee lightweight, and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. J., Negro, will be the first mixed bout in more than 200 years of legalized boxing in Milwaukee.

Promoter Tom Andrews said the last mixed bout was between Joe Choyinski and Klondyke, a negro from Chicago.

Indianapolis Looks Like Winner In Association

BY JOHN R. FOSTER Copyright, 1930.

New York—If the Indianapolis club proves to be the thoroughly good ball club that it was in Florida, the American association better watch it. Indianapolis trained in Sarasota, which saw good baseball.

No team major or minor, could frighten Indianapolis. The team never knew when it was beaten. They won the reputation of the Boston Braves in the grapefruit country.

Milwaukee trained on the east coast of Florida. It pestered the life out of some of the majors before the team was beaten. There were flashes of speed that predicted better baseball for Milwaukee than it had in 1929.

Columbus trained at Lakeland. In exhibition games the team proved W. I. A. A. REALIZED $2,179 FROM STATE CAGE MEET

Madison—Final echoes of Wisconsin's 1930 state high school championship basketball tournament were heard Saturday when Guy Stroh, University of Wisconsin freshman coach, who managed the tournament for the W. I. A. A. announced that he had forwarded a check for $2,179, to Paul P. Neversman, executive secretary of the state interscholastic association, this sum representing the net profits of the 1930 tournament.

This is the largest profit ever realized on a Wisconsin state tournament. The previous record was about $2,000. In 1928 when Madison Central went through to the finals and the Wisconsin high school of Madison stayed in the running for three days. The gain this year over the 1928 figures was really greater than these sums indicate as the W. I. A. A. this year paid expenses for ten men on each competing team, whereas in 1928 but nine were taken care of. This increased the current year's travel expenses about $500.

The University of Wisconsin does not share in the profits of the state tournament, the entire net proceeds being turned over to the W. I. A. A.

JOHN M'GRAW IS 57 YEARS OLD TODAY

Frankville—(AP)—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, celebrates his fifty-seventh birthday today in harness. McGraw's party, he hopes, will be at the expense of the Chicago White Sox, who meet the Giants here today in the eleventh game of their spring exhibition series, which started a month ago.

The rights are one up so far with five victories, four defeats and one tie.

GEORGE SUTTON AGAIN ATTEMPTS COMEBACK

Chicago—(AP)—George Butler, world 18.2 bowling billiard champion of more than 20 years ago, tonight will make another comeback attempt against Percy N. Collins, of Chicago. Collins recently defeated the veteran in a 600-point match. The second test will be played in two blocks of 400 points each.

KALAMAZOO, MICH., FIVE MAN TEAM IS NATIONAL CHAMPS

American Bowling Congress Tournament Will Come to Close Today

CLEVELAND, O.—(AP)—The American Bowling Congress will come to a close tonight with the windup of doubles and singles events.

The quintets in the first ten places held ground last night against attacks of 60 others. As a result the D. Graff and Sons team of Kalamazoo, Mich., carried off the international bowling title, $1,000 in cash and a gold medal.

The afternoon yesterday saw the pins assaulted terrifically. Al Gaudreau of Saginaw, Mich., the all-events leader of the last two weeks, was ousted from his position by George Morrison of Chicago, who came out eighteen pins above Gaudreau with a total of 1585.

In the singles P. Beschel of Kansas City and W. Cookey of Hammond, Ind., tied for eighth with 707 pins apiece.

In the doubles Wooster Lambert and Rudy Meyer of St. Louis rolled a total of 1804 to tie them at sixth with Bob Fekie and George Notz of Chicago.

The standings:

Alvis And Hurley Have 84 Boxers Under Wings

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS Copyright 1930

CHICAGO—Leo Phelonius Flynn the old carpet bagger of Harlem rose from the subway to a Rolls Royce and white flannel knickers through the simple expedient of collecting two dozen or so thick ears and constantly keeping them at work in the tanks where any palooka with a pair of boxing gloves is a fighter. But Leo at his best was just a country retailer of tomatoes beside the firm of Ray Alvis and Jack Hurley a couple of young Chicagoans, who still ride the bus lines to work.

Alvis and Hurley now manage and pay off 84 fighters of varying sizes and capabilities. There may be one or two others in the stable but only eighty-four answered the last inspection. Alvis and Hurley make no effort to remember all of the boy's names; when a fighter joins their army he is given a serial number as if he were in the army or studying at Sing Sing. The only number excluded from the roll is ten and neither Alvis nor Hurley have much use for that.

The current business depression in the cauliflower market has left no finger prints on the Alvis-Hurley ledgers. In wholesaling there is cash and Mr. Alvis is: "A fighter for every town, every occasion and every pocket book."

For a couple of hundred Mr. Alvis can supply a preliminary boy for Detroit or Buffalo and for the same outlay the same boy will do a main bout in Ocala, Fla. No a day passes but what some member of the troupe is fighting somewhere and Mr. Hurley ruins a pair of shoes per week going to the banks.

Alvis used to manage Charles Chuckling Wiggins but almost got that away chasing the old goblin away from the hops and the fast time Charles jumped the fence he was allowed to remain A. W. O. L. Since then Chuck has hired his managers by the afternoon.

Many of the Alvis-Hurley fighters are known only in What Cheer, Ia., and Troy, Ala., which is just as well. But among the 84, it may be 20 by this time, there are some good and fair sluggers. Just a few of the better known boys are: Jack Thompson, Bear Cat Wright, Myer Grace, Billy Petrolle, Tony Herrera and Spug Meyers.

Thompson is the present ace of the gang and is busy getting himself in condition for another gallop with James McLarnin if the Irishman will consent to the bout that is proposed for early May. The California slugger was not in the best condition for his recent clatter with McLarnin and thinks that with more than a month in which to train he can make the earnings sing for the Belfast baby face.

If Thompson takes McLarnin in the next meeting, Alvis will set his blood hounds on the trail of Jackie Fields and try to get the welter champion into a title brawl. Thompson and Fields met once in a great fight and subsequently have been matched for both Chicago and New York but in both places the bout was shoved off the boards. Should Thompson beat McLarnin decisively in their next meeting, if Fields cannot well avoid meeting him.

UNITED CIGARS HUMBLER KIMBERLY

An Appleton basketball team called the United Cigars defeated the Kimberly Ramblers in a game, played Saturday morning at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The score was 27 and 15.

Bill Foote, former high school center and Emmett Mortell, center and guard respectively, were the stars of the Cigar team, each getting four field goals. Bouressa, forward, led the Kimberly team with three field goals and one free throw.

FRANK BOUCHER IS AWARDED ICE TROPHY

Montreal—(AP)—For the second time in succession, Frank Boucher, center of the New York Rangers, has been awarded the Lady Byng trophy, awarded annually by the national hockey league to the player who best combines effective and gentlemanly play. Boucher, one of the leading scorers of the league, was given only 16 minutes in penalties.

The Hart trophy for the player judged to have been most useful to his team, went to Nelson Stewart of the Montreal Maroons. He won the trophy in 1926.

Both trophies were awarded on the basis of the votes of two sports writers in each league city.

WALLOP MENASHA FIVE APPLETON DEMOLAYS

Appleton DeMolay basketball team walloped members of the Menasha DeMolay in a game staged Saturday evening, the score being 36 and 25. The Appleton five was led in its efforts by Bowley, forward, who dropped baskets from most any angle on the floor. The score at half time was 23 and 10 for the Appleton quintet.

Members of the Appleton team were Carl and Bob Kuntz, guards, Volney and Vincent Burgess and Bowley, forwards and Walley Moore center. Among the members of the Menasha five were Webster, center; Becker and Massey guards. The boys are members of the Menasha high school team.

JACKIE FIELDS IN NON-TITLE BOUT AT CLEVELAND TUESDAY

Many Interesting Fights Are Scheduled for Week's Program

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jackie Fields, Los Angeles, holder of the world's welterweight championship, who manages to keep fairly busy playing his trade without risking his title often, is scheduled for a 12-round non-title bout at Cleveland tomorrow night against Tommy Freeman of Erie, Pa. Freeman has a record impressive rather for its youth, the calibre of his opponents although he draws with Gorilla Jones and Andy Divodi are on his 1929 list.

Joe Dundee, who lost the title to Fields, appears at Rochester, N. Y. tomorrow against Bucky Lawless of Syracuse in a ten rounder.

Primo Carnera of Italy takes his huge frame to Los Angeles tomorrow night, seeking his fourteenth successive knockout. His opponent, Neil Clisby, Riverside, Calif. Negro, has no important triumphs on his record.

Jimmy Braddock, Jersey City light heavyweight, meets Billy Jones at Philadelphia tonight over the ten round route at Philadelphia.

Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion who is climbing wearily up the lightweight ladder after his setback at the hands of Jack (Kid) Berg meets Franko La Fay of Troy, N. Y. in a ten rounder at the Broadway arena, tomorrow.

Bud Taylor, the featherweight "terror" from Terra Haute, Ind., meets Paul Wangle of Minneapolis in the latter's home town Friday, on the same night King Tut of Minneapolis and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., Negro, hook up for a promising lightweight battle at Milwaukee.

AMATEURS PLAY IN NORTH-SOUTH TOURNEY

Pinehurst, N. C.—(AP)—Eighteen holes of qualifying play today faced a field of 146 golfers in the annual North and South amateur tournament.

Eighteen holes more tomorrow will determine the 16 players to contest in match play for the title now held by George Voight, of New York, who is defending his honors.

Entries included Phillips Finlay, Harvard student; William C. Fowles, jr., of Pittsburgh, former national amateur champion; C. Ross Somerville, of London, Ont., former Canadian amateur champion; Eddie Held, of New York, the present Canadian titleholder, and John Dawson, of Chicago.

Iowa City, Ia.—John Wonsowicz, Gary, Ind., pole vaults 13 feet, 2 inches for new American scholastic record.

Now You Tell One

A local man BOUGHT a new car LAST week and someone asked him HOW he expected to EVER pay the RUNNING EXPENSES on a BUS like that and he said that HIS car has a new kind of CARBURETOR that is supposed to SAVE 30% of the GAS and a new type of MANIFOLD that will save ANOTHER 25%.

then the IMPROVED motor saves 40% and he has some kind of a SPECIAL DINGUS on it that is GUARANTEED to save 35% and he EXPECTS to STOP every few miles and DRAIN off the SURPLUS.

HE can pay for TIRES, etc. by SELLING the surplus so his RUNNING EXPENSE will be NOTHING.

Moral: If he has anything left after that he can come in here and spend part of it for a new Firestone.

SOUTH DAKOTA MAY ELECT WOMAN FOR ITS NEXT GOVERNOR

Gladys Pyle Chose Politics for Career in Preference to Marriage

By NEA Service
Huron, S. D. — A woman who chose politics instead of marriage for her career when she was but a young school teacher, now stands a good chance of being South Dakota's next governor.

She's Gladys Pyle — 39, attractive and single—who has just announced against a field of four men candidates for the Republican nomination.

And politicians throughout South Dakota are of the belief that Gladys (they are that familiar here in the friendly west) has just as good a chance as anyone in the race. Many are convinced that her chances are the best.

In the first place, Gladys Pyle is rather an unusual woman. It is a bit difficult to understand why she has never married, for there are multitudes of women—not as good-looking as Gladys and with far less personality than she—who are married.

The conclusion is, of course, that Miss Pyle did not care to take marital oaths—that she was more interested in other activities than housework.

BEGAN AS SCHOOL TEACHER
Miss Pyle started out as a school teacher after receiving her education at Huron College and University of Chicago. She taught civics and American history in South Dakota high schools.

Coupled with her interest in governmental problems was an interest in politics that she inherited from her father, the late John L. Pyle, who was attorney-general of South Dakota. So she decided to take up politics as her career.

Her first step was to announce herself as a candidate for the state legislature from Beadle county, her home county. She was elected and became South Dakota's first woman legislator. She served so well that she was re-elected for another term.

During her second term she was appointed deputy to the secretary of state, being the first woman to hold such a job. She remained as deputy for two terms and then she decided she knew enough about the office of secretary of state to run it herself. She announced as a candidate on the Republican ticket.

SURVIVES DEMOCRATIC YEAR
In this campaign the Republican party of the state suffered a setback and the first Democratic governor in more than 25 years was elected. But Miss Pyle did not go down to defeat; she led her ticket and became the first woman secretary of state and the highest Republican officer in the state.

At the end of two years she sought re-election. Again a Democrat was elected governor, but Miss Pyle won again.

Then, just recently, came her announcement for governor. Gladys thought a long time before she made her decision. There were four men

MILWAUKEE YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH

Milwaukee—(AP)—The coming of spring was reflected today in the mounting list of Milwaukee's traffic fatalities. The eighth in a week occurred yesterday when John C. Dore, 21, was killed. His car left a parkway on the south side, snapped off a 30-foot flagpole and then pushed the concrete foundation into the ground before it came to a stop. A companion, Anita Surges, 19, was seriously injured.

THINK CHILD SLAIN
Escanaba, Mich.—(AP)—In the belief that a 3-week-old baby, found dead near Gladstone, was murdered, Delta-co authorities today started a search for the slayer. The child, its skull crushed, was found wrapped in a Chicago paper dated March 23.

In the field already. Each had a certain following—and a certain opposition. Miss Pyle made a survey of the field, decided that the state couldn't unite on any one of her opponents, talked it over with political leaders, wrote the other four candidates and then announced.

IGNORES PROHIBITION AS ISSUE

She made a statement of policies which constituted a constructive platform. Strangely, it made no mention of prohibition, a subject one would expect a woman politician to emphasize. But she wasn't trying to dodge the issue. Gladys is personally and politically dry. She believes prohibition is not an issue in the state campaign.

Instead, she concerned herself with fiscal and taxation reforms. She laid down what her supporters say is a sound, definite and original policy.

One of the secrets of Miss Pyle's success as a political campaigner is that she gets along as well with the men as with the women. Of course, she attends women's luncheons and teas and often addresses women's clubs, but she gets along equally well with men. She is as much at home in a conference with a group of cigar-smoking male politicians as she is with a group of teardrinking women.

APPEALS TO ALL VOTERS
"I do not want to bring the question of sex of a candidate into this campaign," Miss Pyle says. "I am appealing to the voters on my record and on the policies I will carry out if elected."

Gladys has courage—plenty of it. During the last session of the legislature, a certain faction started making intimations that all was not right with the office of secretary of state and suggested an investigation. Miss Pyle announced that she would welcome an investigation and the talk died down.

But this didn't satisfy her. As the session neared its close and it seemed apparent that her department would not be investigated, Miss Pyle demanded an investigation.

Her office was then investigated and the charges were found to be without foundation.

HAINES IS RATHER SILLY IN TALKIE

Second Sound Picture Is Poor Production, Critic Finds

BY JOHN S. COHEN
Motion picture critic of the New York Sun

New York—(CPA)—Again William Haines bobs up in a talkie. This time it is at the Capitol in "The Girl Said No," a long and rather witless slapstick comedy—the sort that excites into hearty laughter those spectators in the highest reaches of the balcony and at the same time fails to move those downstairs or in the mezzanine.

His former film, which was his first talkie, was not bad; nor was Mr. Haines bad in it. In fact he was quite laughable, portraying the same character in dialogue that he had previously played in pantomime.

He still plays this character in "The Girl Said No," but whether it is due to the excessive silliness of the dialogue or whether Mr. Haines himself skirts the realms of fantastic silliness just once too often, he is not half so amusing as annoying.

In a tinnily photographed movie, confusedly told, and acted in a stock company farcical manner, Mr. Haines is the young ne'er-do-well about town who, when he gets a job in a brokerage office, plays tricks, upsets the office and then makes bumptious, Elfin love to a blonde young secretary.

Everything a confusion; his father dies and then he makes good as the head of the family. Finally he gets Lella Hyams for keeps, for she had been playing the young secretary all the while.

The film suddenly, in the middle reels, abandons slapstick and goes in for heavy drama. Before and after the death of Mr. Haines's father there are, in close juxtaposition, flagrant comic gags. This, you can well imagine, represents an error on all counts.

GRAVE ROBBERS SEEK JEWELS IN CEMETERY

Racine—(AP)—Grave-robbers, believed to be in search of jewelry, today were held responsible by Sheriff John Anderson for the posting of a guard in the long-deserted Evergreen cemetery, on the lake shore south of Racine.

Anderson said he had received reports that nine graves were opened so that caskets and remains were visible, and that bones of two or three persons were scattered about the graveyard for a radius of 75 feet. As a result, a deputy went on duty last night.

Passing motorists had told of seeing men tampering with the graves in the cemetery, where many pioneer residents are buried. Anderson said he had positive proof that a number of bones had been removed.

County commissioners plan to make the site a park this spring.

Judging from some performances, nothing in the ring seems so, the square.

LABOR URGED TO WORK TOGETHER TO GET REAL RESULTS

History of Organized Workers Explained at Meeting in New London

New London—Offering their program of conciliatory interchange of opinion exponents of labor appeared here in a public mass meeting on Sunday afternoon. The large crowd listened through a long afternoon of talks and entertainment. E. W. Wendlandt, as chairman first introduced Henry Ohl, Jr. president of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor and later, Miss M. C. McCree, journalist, sociologist and lecturer.

Miss McCree called the work of the federation the greatest movement for social betterment in the world. It works seven days a week and overtime, she asserted, and followed up her statement with the ideals of the organized body, its aims and accomplishments. She reflected at length upon the importance of the laborer, and cited as an instance the menace to public health caused in Milwaukee during a strike of garbage collectors. "The laborers are necessary, more so perhaps than many professions. It is fundamental lack of understanding that keeps problems such as ours in the foreground. If we would talk things over clearly, if everyone would listen with an open mind there would be no problem of the unemployed today."

Following up her trend of thought the speaker denounced the "hire and starve" type of work, where rush orders keep employees at labor night and day until the order is filled and then men and women are laid off. She stressed the need of shorter hours, steady work, equal pay for men and women, old age pension and cited the need of women workers in the union. She added a plea that the women workers shed their inferiority complex, to stand eye to eye with her employer and to play a square game with men.

Mr. Ohl traced the history of organized groups, stating that these have from the beginning of time been responsible for the worthwhile accomplishments. "The best things," he asserted, "have come from the oppressed who realized gropingly at first, and then clearly, that life should hold more things. The end of slavery was brought about not by the masters, but by those who stood by and knew the shortcomings of slavery. Out of the misery of women and children working in textile factories have come legislation providing for the human rights, the continued and labor heads who once fought with bitter hate the progress of labor organizations have now come to discern its merits."

Every great thing must be primarily organized. Counties, towns, cities and states are separately organized to prevent chaos and to speed progress. For this purpose we offer you the privileges of organized labor. We have a program. We plan no destructive policy. How could we do so when our fundamental aims are for the best happiness of the masses. We look to our own homes, the better education of our children. This is not a policy of destruction but of progress."

NELS PETER LARSON SUGGUMBS SATURDAY

New London—The death of Nels Peter Larson, 66, for many years a resident of New London, occurred early Saturday morning following a paralytic stroke which he suffered several days ago. His funeral was held at the residence on N. Water-st. this afternoon with the Rev. E. P. Raby in charge. Burial was in Floral Hill cemetery.

Mr. Larson for more than 20 years was retail salesman at the Hutton Lumber company. He was born in Denmark, coming to this city when lumbering was the chief industry here. His son, Walter, died about five years ago, following service in the World War in which he received injuries. He is survived by the widow and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Edwards of Onawanna, Minn.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR CLINTONVILLE WOMAN

Clintonville—Funeral services for Miss Louise Hornberg, who died at her home in this city on Wednesday were held from the home at 1:30 Saturday afternoon and at 2 o'clock from St. Martin Lutheran church. The Rev. Mr. Speckhard officiating. Interment was made in Grace-land cemetery.

She was born May 11, 1897 at Fond du Lac. She later came with her parents to a farm in this community and then to this city. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Frank Neuman; her step-father, Frank Neuman; four brothers, William of Bear Creek, Frank of Spino, Alvin of Manitowish, and George of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Elsie Schroeder of Milwaukee, Mrs. Lena Bock of Bear Creek, and Mrs. Meyer of Hustlerford.

The O. E. S. club will hold their meeting Tuesday evening. Initiation work will be put on after which refreshments will be served.

The Missionary Circle of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. O. H. Hagen, Dix-st. Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. M. B. Larson and Mrs. James Smiley.

Rochester, N. Y.—George Eastman is to give cameras to children whose twelfth birthday comes this year. The gifts will commemorate the fifteenth anniversary of his first patent.

FOURTH WARD CAGERS DOWN LEBANON TEAM

New London—New London's Fourth Warders, a team made up of fifth and sixth grade boys, had the lead of 11-4 in the first basketball game against Lebanon in Lebanon Parish hall Sunday afternoon. "Iggy" Polak counted for seven of New London's point in the first half.

In the second half Father Brockman's proteges batted furiously and just before the game ended tied the score 15 all. In the overtime period the Fourth Warders held the Lebanon boys scoreless, while George Barlow scored one goal and Polak added one. Lebanon's team comprised Clifford and Harold Collier, James and Gerald Fitzgerald, Edward Egan and Martin Malloy. The New London boys were George Barlow, Leon Polak, Ned Demming, Don Holer, Bobby Ulerich, Herman Platte and Jerome Zaug. This game will no doubt be the last of the season. During which Rev. Brockman of the Lebanon parish has allowed games between various teams from this city.

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Mrs. H. B. Cristy entertained Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Charlotte Ritchie of Shawano, who with her daughter, Shirley, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hartquist, Wyman-st. Guests played bridge and prizes were won by Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. C. B. Reuter, Mrs. Phoebe Ann Potter and Mrs. F. L. Zaug.

Members of the Eastern Star lodge of this city are invited to meet with the Clintonville lodge at the Clintonville Masonic temple Tuesday night. The local chapter was invited to a similar affair at Clintonville some time ago, but could not attend because of a severe blizzard. Those who will attend from this city will leave New London at 4:45.

Members of the Old Settlers Bridge club were entertained on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. R. Margraff, Wyman-st. Mrs. C. C. Seims was a guest of the club and prizes were won by Mrs. Leonard Cline and Mr. Augusta Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Schaffer and son Wilmer were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Zaug.

WORK RESUMED ON NEW GOLF COURSE; 100 IN CLUB NOW

Hope to Start Play Next July—Start Harrowing Ground Soon

Kaukauna—Work on the Kaukauna golf course has been resumed. Members of the club believe that the course will be ready for use in July. The work is in charge of Martin Heindel, green keeper.

Pipes are being laid to drain the course, which has nine holes. Harrowing of the ground will be started this week and grass seed will be planted. The general outline of the course was laid out last fall by a golf professional.

There are about 100 members in the Kaukauna Golf club, which was organized last summer. Memberships cost $100. Those joining last fall pay their membership in monthly assessments. The seventh assessment was due April 1. Memberships are being paid promptly, according to Ben Prugh, club president.

Directors are Ben Prugh, E. F. Rennie, William Harwood, Dr. E. J. Bolinski, Hugo Welfmann, C. D. Tawley and Louis E. Nelson. A number of the members took a practice course conducted here for men and women during the winter.

NATURAL GAS MAY BE EMPLOYED, NOT WASTED HEREAFTER

Parallel Gas Lines Under Construction to Manufacturing Centers

BY J. C. ROYLE
(Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press)

Washington—(CPA)—The millions of cubic feet of natural gas now being wasted are likely to be employed as a result of the current trend in fuel distribution. The latest and largest project along this line has made this evident to fuel men, public utilities heads, government officials and industrial leaders alike.

This move was the starting of work on construction of parallel gas lines from the Panhandle field of Texas to the manufacturing centers of the midwest. In this project some of the largest utility interests and oil and gas producers are associated. They include the Cities Service company, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Corporation, Phillips Petroleum and Skelly Oil.

With various extensions these lines will have a length of 1,350 miles. It is the most ambitious project yet undertaken although other long lines to the southeast and in California already are in operation.

Many large manufacturing centers will use natural gas for fuel for the first time as a result.

Government officials see in the move a trend largely in industrial fueling. It is realized, however, that natural gas, either mixed or unmixed with the manufactured product, can and will be used for domestic purposes in the districts served. Federal fuel specialists estimate that gas to be delivered from the Texas Panhandle can probably be purchased at from 5 to 10 cents a thousand cubic feet. The cost to consumers varies but for domestic uses it is placed at about $1 a thousand cubic feet.

RABBIT FUR DYED IN MANY COLORS

Suntan, Eggshell, Dim Blue and Pale Green Are Just a Few

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press

New York—(CPA)—According to the linerick, the rabbit has a funny fur, but his face would be even funnier if he could get a glimpse of the future. He would see his white fur dyed not only in beige but also suntan, eggshell, dim blue, pale green, frank yellow, luscious orange, and renamed lapin for use on evening cloaks, afternoon costumes, and sports suits.

Dust gray is not so dusty, so to speak, in the fashion spectrum this season. The advent of gray is a natural result of the black-and-white fur. The neutral tone is used of course for whole ensembles, though its chief use is as a background for the giddy colors with which the season crashes into our midst.

Some of the chic London shops are showing handbags of woolen cloth, occasionally in startling plaids. Sometimes the bag is of ordinary suiting set off by a galleth ornament. Sometimes it is of plain wool in drab, gray, or brown, with futuristic wool insets of many brilliant tints.

Of Interest To Farmers

HERE AND THERE WITH FARMERS

BY W. F. WINSEY

"During the past few weeks many farmers have decided to include sugar beets in their rotation and hundreds of farmers that had already contracted to grow beets have decided to increase their acreage," says A. F. Schnaase, fieldman of the Menominee River Sugar Co., for this territory. M. A. Ruessmussen, farming 1,000 acres of which 600 acres are devoted to cash crops, last week changed his plans, cutting down his wheat, cabbage and potato acreage, and increased his sugar beet contract from 30 to 100 acres.

"This action on the part of the farmers was due largely to the fact that with the decline in the price of dairy products, more farmers are turning to cash crops to keep up their income and they are afraid that there will be over-production in those crops whose prices are governed by supply and demand."

SEYMOUR—Last week a cement septic tank was installed in his farm yard by Herbert Tubbs, and a bath room and running hot and cold water in his residence. During farm week at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture Mr. Tubbs made comparisons of the various kinds of septic tanks and decided on the cement and the plans recommended by the college. He sets his power for pumping and pressure from an electric motor. Mr. Tubbs is the first farmer in his neighborhood to introduce the septic tank improvement in a farm residence.

THE BIG SHOT by FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: New York attracts Enid Howard of Winnipeg, bent on a writing career. She makes the acquaintance of Phil Martin, a newspaperman. Then she finds that the leader of the underworld known as the "Big Shot" whom Martin is hunting, is her brother. A picture of the Big Shot which she recognizes as her brother prompts a search for him. It was given her for Martin by a gangster—Shive Frank—who dies, a victim of gangland enemies. Following the trail of the Big Shot she goes to "Twisty" Morgan's house, sees his capture, is imminent and warns him in time to escape. She faints and awakes in the Big Shot's house. Face to face with the Big Shot, she tells him he is Roy Howard, her missing brother, but he denies the identity.

Chapter 11 THE REUNION

ENID stared at the Big Shot incredulously, from her bed, as though half-suspecting that her ears had played her false. "You're not Roy Howard—not my brother!" she questioned. "Then what is your name?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "I've had a lot of them," he said. "Varney, for one—Hal Varney. I used that until it got to have too familiar a sound in certain quarters. My real name is—I guess you can be trusted after last night—Kane, Norman Kane—usually known as Norry Kane."

"Your name is Roy Howard," she said in a monotone.

"Nix," he said. "I've told you—Norry Kane."

She bit at her lips, but the tears came. She buried her face in her hands and burst suddenly into sobs.

He came quickly across the room and, sitting on the edge of the bed, put his arm around her shoulders. "What's wrong, kid?" he asked anxiously. "I don't get you."

"Oh, why are you asking this?" she asked pitifully. "Is it because you are trying to save me from—from the knowledge that my brother is a criminal that you are pretending to be someone else—that you are pretending you do not know me, that you have never seen me before?"

He drew back from her, staring at her in amazement.

"Your brother?" he gasped. "Do you mean to say that you think I am your brother?"

"I don't think you are at all!" she had steeled her voice again now. "I know! You are Roy, and I am Enid Howard, your sister."

He was silent for an instant, then he laughed a little grimly. "Well, either I must look a lot like him," he said, "or you've got something up your sleeve that I don't understand. Anyway, it won't take a minute to knock the brother proposition on the head."

He opened the door and called down the hall. A moment later he had ushered a man and a woman into the room.

Enid looked swiftly, critically from one to the other. They were middle-aged. The woman was a little overdressed. So was the man. He sported a massive gold watch chain, and the large diamond screwed into the lower part of his tie was vulgarly blatant.

It was the Big Shot who spoke: "This young lady says that my name is Roy Howard, and that I am her brother. Will you answer that?"

"What's the matter with her?" inquired the man gruffly. "Is she nutty?"

"That is no answer," said the Big Shot quickly.

"I'll answer her," said the woman sharply. "I'll say you ain't her brother. An' I guess I ought to know—me that bore you!"

"Mr. and Mrs. Kane, my father and mother—Miss Howard." The Big Shot accompanied the introduction with an indulgent smile and a shrug of his shoulders. Then he motioned the couple from the room and closed the door upon them.

Enid watched him, through blurred eyes as he came back toward the bed. There was no question in her mind but that the Big Shot was Roy.

"Well, that's that!" he said coolly. "And now perhaps you'll tell me how you happened to run into me last night."

"I saw you as I went down the elevated steps," she said, and was conscious that, though prompt, her answer was lame.

How much could she hold back and still make her story ring true? Somehow it seemed ironically unfair that she should be handicapped by being placed on the name, and I've told you who I am," she said earnestly. "Why you are acting as you are. I cannot understand; but you are Roy."

Enid then related the events that brought her to New York and was living with their old maid, Martha.

"Yeah?" He was staring at her with slightly narrowed eyes as she finished talking. "Just luck, then, that you were on the 'L' steps, eh? Well, maybe I believe you—and maybe not. Where does this Martha live?"

She gave him the address without any hesitation whatever.

"Well," he ejaculated, "you seem to have a link-up with about everything that's been going on lately, don't you?" He tossed the paper to her. "That little party must have been pulled off pretty near your front door."

Automatically she read the headlines:

NOTORIOUS GANGSTER SLAIN
SHIVE FRANK, EX-CONVICT,
VICTIM OF GANG'S REVENGE

"It was as nice a piece of work," he observed with a complacent and approving grin. "It was coming to him, too!"

Enid shuddered. "You—you seem to think his murder was justified. Was—was it you—your gang who killed him?"

He laughed outright. "Well, you've got nerve to ask me that!" he exclaimed. "No, we didn't but we intended to but others beat us to it. Curse him for the snitch he was! I used to know him pretty well—too well. I just found out he's squealed to a nosy newspaper guy who's after me."

"Well, I don't know what Shive Frank spilled, how much this newspaper bird knows, but before he gets a chance to start anything we'll show him a few attentions that'll tear the truth out of him; and, if he sounds dangerous, any wreaths that are sent to Shive Frank won't be so faded but they'll do for him, too."

She raised her hand to the bandage around her head to hide her feelings. So he did know! And Phil Martin was in danger! It seemed as though cold fingers were clutching at her heart. There was no longer temporizing with her feelings—she knew she cared for him dearly, cared for him with all her heart and soul. But she knew, too, in this same moment, that her love could never know fulfillment now—even if he, too, cared. Binding, poignant agony of mind was upon her. It was not only that the man here who threatened Phil was her own brother Roy, but that she was the sister of a criminal.

Anticipation Sums Up Society All Last Week

BY DOROTHEA J. LEWIS
(Post-Crescent's Washington Society Editor)

Washington — Anticipation, and more anticipation might sum up society's last week in Washington. It was a week filled to the brim with preparation and impatient waiting for society's once brief week of gayety that will come between the end of the 30 days of official mourning for former President William Howard Taft on April 7 and the beginning of solemn holy week on April 14.

After Easter there will be a long period of gay affairs, but many events must be crowded into the coming week. There will be the annual Stunt Party of the Women's National Press club which is always great fun. The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Lyman Wilbur have sent out invitations to a buffet supper to be held in the large auditorium at the Interior Department on Sunday evening, April 13. Representative John M. Nelson of Madison will be among the guests.

Then too, the D. A. R. convention will begin April 14. A number of entertainments are planned for them although their convention will fall in holy week. The President and Mrs. Hoover will receive them on the afternoon of April 16, and the next day there will be a reception for them at the Pan American Union. There will be an annual "president general's reception" and an annual banquet, and pilgrimages to Mount Vernon and other nearby patriotic shrines.

Mrs. John B. Gay and Miss Gladys Porter of Portage, daughter of A. A. Porter, owner and publisher of the Portage Daily Register-Democrat expect to attend the convention as delegates and plan to arrive in Washington about April 12. Other Wisconsin members who plan to come are Mrs. Troutman of Milwaukee, state regent for Wisconsin, and Mrs. August Inbusch of Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Inbusch are now in Florida but will leave soon to spend a month in Washington.

Mrs. Ralph Hess of Madison, former state regent, may attend.

With so many springtime plans and activities, it is natural for Washingtonians to think of the annual apple-blossom festival at Winchester, Va., in May. It is one of the loveliest and most unusual fetes held anywhere near this city and everyone who can, attends.

Miss Hanna Anderson, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. P. M. Anderson formerly of Madison and Augusta, Wis., is the happiest and most thrilled high-school girl in the national capital. She has been chosen to represent Washington, and act as a Princess in the festival. According to Mrs. Anderson, Hanna's tips sometimes touch the ground.

Mrs. William Kittle, formerly of Madison, joined Mr. Kittle in Washington Thursday. Mr. Kittle has been here for sometime doing research work. Since their return from Europe, Mrs. Kittle has been visiting in Minnesota and Wisconsin. While in Madison, several weeks ago, she was taken ill, but is now much better.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA
Miss Fola La Follette, who recently left Washington for California, after a brief visit with her mother, Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, her brother Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., and her sister, Mrs. Mary La Follette Suhr, has given up her New York apartment and plans to remain in California indefinitely with her husband, George Middleton, the playwright. Mr. Middleton is with the Fox studios.

and is writing, supervising, and directing the "talkies."

Mr. and Mrs. John William Kiser of New York, old friends of Representative and Mrs. Henry Allen Cooper of Racine, visited Washington for a few days last week.

Representative and Mrs. Cooper dined with them Sunday at the Mayflower Hotel, where they were staying, and Mrs. Cooper lunched with them at the Hotel Tuesday. Representative Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Kiser lunched at the capitol Monday. They left for their New York home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Cooper attended the delightful musicale given by Colonel Wade H. Cooper at the Mayflower Monday afternoon.

The guest artists were Miss Helen Howison, lyric soprano; Henry Sokolov, violinist; concert master of the National Symphony orchestra, and Michael Shvets, basso, formerly of the Russian Imperial theater.

Colonel Cooper was assisted by a number of distinguished hostesses, including the wives of the Mexican, Chilean, Czechoslovakian, and Bolivian ambassadors and ministers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, formerly of Watertown and Madison, who have been in Egypt for the last three months, had the unusual thrilling experience of riding miles through the Sahara on camels to dine at the luxurious tent home of one of the great sheiks of the desert.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies sail from Egypt for the United States on Monday, April 7. Mr. Davies is a former member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Their daughter, Miss Rachel Davies, instead of accompanying her parents on their interesting trip, has been studying at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. She will return to Washington at the end of the term.

William G. Wheeler left Washington for Wisconsin Tuesday for a week's visit. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will close their apartment at the Wardman Park hotel at the end of April and will go to their summer home at Janesville, Wis.

National Capital Society is still much interested in Dr. Hugo Eckener's visit of last week.

A most distinguished company attended the luncheon given in his honor at the Cosmos club by Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor. Although the luncheon was informal in character, it boasted of the Ambassador of Germany, Herr Frederick von Prittwitz und Gaffron, a number of Senators and Representatives, members of the board of trustees of the National Geographic Society who honored Dr. Eckener with the society's gold medal, and men interested in aviation and its problems.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Balchassar H. Meyer of Madison and Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the Far Eastern Division of the state department, and a former professor at the University of Wisconsin where he took his Ph. D. degree, were present.

Dr. Eckener, Frau Eckener, and Gutsum Borglum were visitors at the regular Friday afternoon tea of the Congressional club on March 31. Borglum gave a fascinating talk on the Stone Mountain memorial, and then, in a great rush, was carted away by Mrs. John C. Schafer, wife of Representative Schafer of Milwaukee. Mr. Borglum had no car in the city, and a most important engagement at the capitol, so Mrs. Schafer played "good Samaritan."

PERFORMANCE SUCCESS

The American Association of University Women's benefit, performance of "Journey's End" on Monday was a great success. Mrs. William Netter, wife of the Dean of the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University and formerly of Watertown, was one of the sponsoring members. Members of the diplomatic corps were particularly interested since the association is affiliated with the International Federation of University Women which has units throughout the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Buell of Madison stopped in Washington for a few days on their way home from a trip through the Panama Canal. They spent most of their time here, "commuting" to Baltimore, where their daughter, Miss Mary Buell, is a member of the faculty of Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. Balchassar Meyer attended a tea given by Miss Genevieve Hendricks last Wednesday, at which a number of Wisconsin visitors in Washington were present.

Miss Hendricks, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin who lived in Madison during her college course, is well known in Washington as an interior decorator.

Miss Sylvia Meyer, daughter of Commissioner and Mrs. Meyer attended a bridge party given by Miss Edna Kelley in honor of Miss Rachel Clarke, soon to be married.

Miss Mary Louise Brown, formerly dean of women at Lawrence college in Appleton, and now dean at Iowa State University, assisted Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, wife of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, as hostess at the American Association of University Women's musical tea on Monday. Miss Penelope Tarwater and Miss Rebecca Tarwater entertained by singing a group of negro spirituals.

Mrs. Charles Marsh, formerly Miss Chloro Thurman of Green Bay, is working temporarily with the Law Enforcement Commission of the United States Civil Service Commission. She finds the work so interesting that she hopes it may become permanent.

Dr. Marsh is a member of the Economics department faculty at American University.

Mrs. John L. Noyes of Boston, sister of Mrs. Lloyd M. Horsfall, is visiting her sister and Colonel Horsfall for about two weeks. She arrived in the national capital Monday.

Colonel Horsfall is from Prairie du Chien.

Mrs. Horsfall entertained a small company at luncheon to meet her sister on Thursday at the Army-Navy club. Mrs. P. M. Anderson was one of the guests.

Francis Cramer of West Bend, a freshman student at American University, made the school's honor roll for the last semester.

His older brother, Norman, is also a student at the University and was recently made business manager of school publications.

Mrs. Cyrus Yawkey of Wausau is planning to bring her three grandchildren to Washington for their spring vacation, sometime in April. The eldest grandchild, Cyrus Woodson, attends school in Wausau, the two little girls, Nancy and Margaret Woodson, are too young to go to school and will be accompanied on their trip by their French governess.

Dr. Eugene A. Gilmore, former vice governor of the Philippines who recently resigned to accept the office of dean of the Law School at the University of Iowa, was in Washington for a few days last week. Dr. Gilmore was at one time dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School and made his home in Madison.

Mrs. C. E. Mendenhall of Madison, wife of Former Commissioner Esch, attended.

wife of Professor Mendenhall of the University of Wisconsin physics department, also visited the national capital.

Colonel and Mrs. P. M. Anderson were guests at a dinner Wednesday given by Mrs. Mrs. Homer L. Kitt of Washington, and on Thursday were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Barisch at dinner.

ATTEND DINNER

Representative and Mrs. John C. Schafer attended the "Cook Book" dinner at the Congressional club Thursday evening. The club through sales of its new famous cook book has already realized $17,000.

Mrs. Fred Sheasby of Milwaukee was Mrs. Schafer's guest at the interesting "Authors day" tea of the Congressional club, Friday. Mrs. Robert Rhinehart, Bertha Mellett, author of "The Illington Brat," Mathilda Elker, author of "Mrs. Mason's Daughters" and other novels with Washington as a background, and Frederick William Wile fresh from the London novel conference, were guests of honor.

Mrs. James A. Frear, wife of Representative Frear of Hudson, also attended.

Dr. and Mrs. William F. Netz attended the German night of the International club Saturday. The club is composed of university students from various nations.

The program was entertainingly made up of songs, violin and piano solos, and a short talk by a member of the German Embassy staff.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Ladies gave their regular luncheon, which has been several times postponed because of official mourning, Tuesday at the Carlton hotel.

Mrs. Meyer of Madison, wife of Commissioner Balchassar Meyer, and Mrs. John J. Esch of La Crosse,

Consumption Is About on Par With 1928, Manufacturers Hold

Special Dispatch to Post-Crescent
Detroit—(C.P.A.)—Executives of the automobile plants take the position that it is unfair to compare first quarter production figures of this year with those of the corresponding period of 1929 because the first three months one year ago saw the start of an all-time peak that was altogether abnormal and that never be reached again by many of the factories.

Starting with January, 1929, the production curve took the sharpest upward move that the industry has ever known. The peak was reached in April and continued in strength through May and a part of June, when it began to flatten away. Although it continued to recede the volume attained was sufficient to maintain operations far above 1928, which was the best previous year.

There was a brief interval between July and August, when new models bulged the line level again, but from then on there was a gradual decline. Then came the slump of November and December which brought operations below 1928, but maintained a pace still above 1927. The result was a year in which 3,622,000 units were manufactured—a total now conceded to have been out of proportion to actual needs. Basing calculations on the present rate of operations, the view is held by the automobile men that the situation now represents a reversion to the level of 1928 and the expectation is that it can be maintained for the remainder of the year.

Figures issued on March operations indicate a further upward swing for the lowest-priced cars in both the four-cylinder and six-cylinder divisions. Partial figures from the sales territory point to Ford and Chevrolet combined as doing more than 50 per cent of present business. This trend represents the swing from style to price and performance under conditions now prevailing.

MARKET IRREGULAR AS BULLS, BEARS SEEK LEADERSHIP

Stocks Turn Upward Late in Afternoon With Drop in Money Rates

BY STANLEY W. PRENSOIL
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York.—(P)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market, with a sharp upward tendency developing in the afternoon on the lowering of the call money rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent. Bear traders made repeated efforts to unsettle the general list by hammering some of the public utilities, steels and specialties, but they made little headway as new leaders were invariably brought forward in other sections of the list to revive bullish enthusiasm.

Trading was in fairly heavy volume, averaging more than a million shares an hour in the early trading. Several blocks of 5,000 to 40,000 shares changed hands during the session.

New high records for the year were established by more than 50 stocks, the list including such outstanding leaders as American Telephone, General Motors, U. S. Steel common, International Harvester and Standard Oil of New York.

Except for the apparent settlement of the Fox Film controversy through the sale of the William Fox holdings of voting stock, there was little news over the weekend to influence market sentiment, while business news continues spotty, many observers were inclined to the opinion that powerful financial interests were committed to the side of higher stock prices in order to facilitate the many merger deals now pending and to help improve business sentiment. Although several conservative houses have urged profit taking in trading lines and caution in the making of new commitments, none of them openly advocate short selling at this juncture.

Fox Film jumped 38 points on the first sale but lost nearly half its gain in the heavy profit-taking which followed.

Loews ran up 7 points and General Theatres equipment crossed 50 to a new high for the year. Warner Bros. Pictures, second quarter earnings of which are believed to have fallen below earlier estimates, dropped about 3 points but made up most of the loss on predictions of a record breaking third quarter.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent but the supply of funds became so plentiful that the rate was dropped to 3 1/2 in the early afternoon. Time money and bankers acceptance rates held steady.

United Aircraft, which was under pressure last week as a result of the failure of the directors of the National Air Transport to approve merger terms, ran up 8 1/2 points to a new high record at 96 1/2. National Air Transport also moved into new high ground, flocking Wall Street 2 1/2 points to 52 1/2, duplicating the year's high, on the announcement that the interstate commerce commission had authorized the Chesapeake and Ohio to acquire and operate the lines of the road.

American Telephone, Vanadium Steel, U. S. Freight and National Bellas Hess sold 5 to 3 points higher.

HEAVY BUYING OF HOGS BOOSTS MART

Prices Advance 25 Cents With All Classes Showing Gains

Chicago.—(P)—Buying hogs was a popular sport in the stockyards this morning, to the great satisfaction of men with hogs to sell. Prices mounted to 25c above Friday's average at once, and all classes were moving actively at the advance. Heavy buyers showed the most marked improvement and best interest, when 270-290-lb weights sold at $10.15 to $10.25, at the start, and a load averaging 325 pounds went over the scales at $10.00 for the first time in a month or more. Although the major packing houses took 14,000 hogs on direct consignment and were not as active as other interests in buying, their indifference was not felt appreciably because of the shortage of supplies, for a Monday. Last week there were 18,000 more hogs on sale than today, with 53,700 against 35,000. The 11 markets also showed a marked reduction in offerings, as there was only 109,000 against 140,000 a week ago.

With light steers and yearling steers making up most of the run of cattle at Chicago today, heavy steers, that were so favored last week, were again in better demand and opened on a firm basis with the close of last week. Numerous loads were on hand suitable for sale at $14.00 and up. Inquiry was slower for the medium grade heaves and for all weights under 1,200 lbs., which were scheduled to sell at $13.25-13.50. Fortunately for these the run at Chicago and the eleven markets was smaller than a week ago, and not apt to depress the market. Chicago had 13,000 against 17,500 last Monday and the total at all the important markets was 52,900 against 60,900.

In line with the strength that appeared in the sheep trade late last week sellers demanded higher prices for all their lambs and sheep at the start of trade. The basis for their demands was the fact that the run here was only half as large as last Monday's, with 11,000 against 22,000 at this juncture.

WHEAT TURNS DOWN AGAIN AS REPORTS SHOW LESS DAMAGE

Possibility of Rain in Kansas and Nebraska Also Helps Movement

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago.—(P)—Wheat and heat damage to 1,247,000 bu. of wheat here, announced at first as affecting 2,000,000 bu., did much to turn wheat prices downward today. Aggressive selling was witnessed. Some of the selling was ascribed to a forecast of cloudy weather tonight in Kansas and Nebraska, possibly indicating a break-up of drought. This situation arising over the posting of wheat by an elevator company here as "out of condition" was acted upon this afternoon at a meeting between elevator-men and officials of the Chicago board of trade.

President John A. Bunnell of the board of trade announced after the meeting assured the board of trade that the public elevator companies that they are prepared in accordance with the state laws and the exchange rules, "to deliver the grade of grain called for by the elevator receipts in their public grain warehouses."

The South Chicago Public Elevator company, which had posted 1,200,000 bu. of wheat as out of condition, agreed to guarantee the remainder of the grain in their houses in line with the guarantee of other operators.

The effect is that present grain warehouse receipts outstanding here are guaranteed by the Chicago public elevators.

Corn was firm early, but offerings came out freely through commission houses and prices declined readily. Weather favorable for field work over entire belt, but there is no planting as yet in the more northern sections of the belt. Country offerings were small. Oats were affected by action of other grain. Oats seedling is well under way in the west, and is practically completed in central Illinois.

Provisions kept about steady despite upturns in the value of hogs.

CURB RISE SHOWS SIGNS OF HALTING

Operators for Advance Continue to Press Advantage, However

New York.—(P)—The steady upward movement of recent weeks on the Curb market showed few signs of flagging at the beginning of the new week today. Profit-taking was in large volume, and forward pressure slow, but operators for the advance continued to press their advantage. Many traders took profits in the belief that a technical reaction was overdue, but the more bullish inclined argued that any reaction at this time would probably be short-lived.

Niagara Hudson continued to lead the advance in utilities, moving up into high ground for the year above 22, which is nearly double the year's low. Hydro Electric Securities was also pushed further into new high ground, United Light and Power "A" was firm. Electric Bond and Share sold off more than a point during the morning, but turned upward after midday. American Cities "A" was a buoyant feature, pushing up more than 3 points.

Fox Film, the strong feature of the industrials and specialties, rising more than 2 points to new high ground for the year above 11, reflecting announcement of the settlement of the refinancing controversy through sale of William Fox's holdings to a syndicate headed by H. L. Clarke. Loews debenture rights rose more than 4 points to new high ground above 50. Driver Harris and Liberty Metal rose 1 1/2 points to new high ground, new high ground. Polk Aircraft and American chain encountered moderate selling pressure, and Peppercell Manufacturing was weak spot.

Oils generally moved in narrow ranges. Standard of Indiana reached new 1930 high above 50. In the investment trusts, Taggart Corp. moved up into new high ground, while Shenandoah sagged under realization last week's gains.

VOTERS TO DECIDE ILLINOIS PRIMARY BATTLE TOMORROW

Senator Deneen and Ruth McCormick Fight Until Ballot Deadline

Chicago—(P)—United States Senator Charles S. Deneen and Ruth Hanna McCormick tossed the world court into the Monday wash today. Tomorrow, Illinois Republicans in thousands of primary election booths, will iron it out.

Neither the senior senator nor the congresswoman allowed the usual full before the ballot storm; both sought last-minute strength in Chicago with noon-day meetings and both planned final statewide radio appeals tonight.

For the first time, a woman opposed a man for a senate seat; again as in 1926, Illinois voters will be the first to approve or refute an attack upon a world court senator; again as in 1924 a Deneen, a McCormick and a Newton Jenkins meet in a Republican senatorial primary; for the first time, the daughter and widow of a United States senator seeks to sit in the capitol wing where they sat.

Mrs. McCormick, the daughter of Mark Hanna, is the widow of the late Senator Medill McCormick. It was in 1924 that Deneen gained McCormick's seat by a plurality of less than 6,000 votes. In that race, Jenkins polled 115,000 votes and political observers believed his unlooked-for activity made for McCormick's defeat.

The world court is an issue, made so by Mrs. McCormick in an onslaught that carried her into every county in the state. Deneen accepted the challenge and in an offensive no less widespread has defended his vote for American entrance into the court with five reservations, saying it was because of party regularity. He charged Mrs. McCormick with shifting her stand on the issue and declared her opposition

General Peeved

Reports that General Charles P. Summerall, above, Chief of Staff, left the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground much offended by lesser officers who presumed to inform him on artillery points with which he already was familiar, have been partly confirmed. A War Department statement has admitted that the department of some of the officers was "not satisfactory."

tion was "out of harmony" with Republican administrations.

The campaign reached a high point last night when Mrs. McCormick, at a rally of Negro voters, declared her support of Oscar DePriest, Negro congressman seeking reelection.

Among the Democrats, activity has gone a-begging. The senatorial nomination has been conceded to James Hamilton Lewis, former war-time senator who abandoned 12 years of political retirement at the insistence of Cook-to Democratic leader.

MANY BANKS SHOW DROP IN DEPOSITS

Decrease Is Largely Seasonal—Incomes Lower at This Time of Year

Kansas City, Mo.—(CPA)—While a decrease of $13,000,000 in deposits in the past three months is shown by the national banks of this city, this is nothing exceptional, for the same percentage of decrease is experienced in the rural banks of the interior and to a degree it is seasonal.

The income of the producing country is at this time limited and the expense of the farms steadily goes on. Just now the banks are having a strong demand for loans.

Reports are coming in from the western and southwestern wheat belt of some damage from dry weather and high winds, but these are not serious and are to a great degree local. A Santa Fe report tells of a prospect of a record yield if present prospects are maintained. However, there is plenty of time for a change in the condition before harvest.

Meetings are being held throughout the wheat belt to induce the farmers to join the farm board cooperative movement and thus far the response has been fairly liberal, probably somewhat induced by the expectation that if the farmer does not join he is to have a hard time selling his product.

In the end it is expected that practically every producer will be

In the list of government operated cooperatives and those who remain outside will be left without a market. Whether or not the price of the coming harvest is to be benefited is yet to be seen.

Trade has shown some improvement during the past week as spring has got under way. This is largely effective in clothing and motor cars, the latter giving a better account as the touring season opens. Labor is yet not fully employed, but improvement is seen day by day and the southwest with its many public enterprises to be undertaken is likely to take up the slack in employment in the next few weeks.

Announcing a Modart Style Showing Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Miss Blanche Shaffer, stylist from the Modart Company, will conduct the showing and give figure analyses and individual fittings by appointment.

The latest developments in modern corsetry, with explanations of princess lines and their relation to the new styles are of interest to all women and will be thoroughly discussed by Miss Shaffer.

Modart Foundation Garments are designed for all figure types and in a variety of beautiful fabrics and laces to appeal to all tastes. Many control the figure through their clever designing and seaming, without the aid of boning, while others are lightly boned for those who desire more firmness.
